MAYOR'S LIFE THREATENED

Bullets Fired Into Patrolman's Back, Witnesses Say

YOUNGSTOWN — (Associated Press) — Sheriff's officers this morning captured Giuseppe Siento, said to have shot and killed Patrolman Wallace Flickinger of Lowellville last night.

Siento was found near the scene of the shooting after an all-night search.

Policemen say Siento has been angry at authorities because, he said, nothing was done about blackhand letters he declared he received.

A patrolman said that last night Siento told him that he planned to kill the mayor.

A short time later, according to witnesses, Siento shot Patrolman Flickinger in the back.

BRIDE SHOT

YOUNGSTOWN — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Lorenzo Oliza, 18-year-old bride of Lorenzo Oliza, of East Youngstown, is hovering between life and death today with her lungs pierced in four places by bullets fired, she said, by her husband when she came home in an automobile last night with Tony Fumara.

Fumara was shot thru the shoulder, Oliza escaped.

Mrs. Oliza was first married when she was 14. Her first husband committed suicide eight months later.

HOLLENBACHER TO SERVE SENTENCE

Last Hope of Wife Slayer Gone as Appeals Court Acts

An opinion handed down Friday by the appeals court ended for Carl Hollenbacher, 39, the last hope of ending a life term in prison for slaying his divorced wife, Pearl Burgess.

The upper court affirmed the sentence of the lower court.

The murder was committed in 1919, in a garden in the rear of her home in S. Park-st. Hollenbacher shot her three times after she had refused to marry him and so to Toledo to start life anew.

As she sank dying to the ground, Carl turned the revolver on himself and attempted to blow out his brains. The shot pierced the temple, but did not produce death. It bludgeoned Hollenbacher in one eye, however.

Hollenbacher was tried for murder and found guilty. He was sentenced to the Ohio State penitentiary for life. Later he was brought back and tried for his sanity. The plea has been in constant litigation since the close of the first trial.

About one year ago Carl was sent to Ohio State penitentiary to await the outcome of his last appeal.

HOUSE IS WRECKED BY RUNAWAY CAR

Girl Killed and Motorman Held on Homicide Charge

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Patrick McNelis, a motorman, was held for homicide today, charged with having deserted his car last night when the power failed and it plunged eight blocks down the street.

The car, a 1922 Buick, was driven by a young girl, seriously injured, four other persons and made homeless sixteen families by demolishing a tenement house.

Just as the car, a one man type, reached the top of a long hill, the power failed. The motorman, according to a report to the police, applied the brakes but the vehicle started backward down the hill. The car passed over a man and a woman, and struck a child, and then plunged over a cliff and into the water.

Mary McLaughlin, 13, was crushed by falling brick and thrown beneath the wheels.

25,000 GALLONS OF CANADIAN RUM ENTERS NEW YORK STATE IN WEEK

Quantity Crossing Border Since Signing of Repealer

$100,000 WORTH DAILY

First Hand Information Secured by Correspondent

(BY C. K. MCALEBY)

MALONE, N. Y. — (United Press) — Twenty-five thousand gallons of bottled in bond Canadian liquor has crossed the border into New York since Governor Smith signed the state prohibition law repealer a week ago.

One hundred thousand dollars worth of booze is entering the United States every day in this area.

This figure was given me by the "boss" of a liquor smuggling organization, as I entered one of his automobiles at a point near Dewittville, Que., and made ready to run over the line with 45 cases of Scotch intended for sale in the shadow of the Albany Hill, where New York's laws are made and repealed.

HIDDEN SPRING SHOWN

Three hundred to four hundred motor cars are engaged in the traffic in liquor, according to the "boss" of the "packers" expertly placed the 15 dozen cases carefully protected in straw wrappers into every available space in the car. The driver even displayed an extra spring hidden under the floor to help carry the load.

This 25,000 gallons crossed the line between the Vermont border and a point on the international frontier a few miles north of Malone.

The estimate does not include the vast amount said to be crossing the St. Lawrence from Ontario, despite that province's dry laws, it does not take in the cargoes which enter Vermont.

At existing bootleg prices, this means a gross intake of $800,000 a week. The cost at the Canadian sources—again quoting the present market—is roughly half of that, leaving about $400,000 a week to pay transportation expense and other overhead and provide a profit for those engaged in this highly organized, illegal smuggling.

There was nothing particularly thrilling about my ride on the bootlegger's car. Instead, with outlaws and bu-caneros, it seemed as if I were witnessing the operations of an efficient smooth-running transportation business.

PRICES GIVEN

"This liquor costs us $562.50 at the rate of $37.50 a case," said the chief bootlegger, as the packers worked with the bottles in their straw overcoats. "We will get $75 a case for the load, delivered."

"We can get 75 from our source of supply at $31.50 a case. It's a selling on the other side at $72 a case."

"Our principal problems are economical transportation, reduction of expenses, increase of the demand and sale of the goods at the best market."

When the loading was completed, we started on our expedition. The route taken from Dewittville led all most directly south to the border over a confusing series of country roads. The car passed four others bound in the same general direction. Two were traveling together, carrying a big shipment.

The trip was made in good time but on no occasion was the speed greater than 30 miles an hour. This was after the border had been left 15 miles behind and the car had

Are Children A Handicap To Mother Today?

Do children make a social outcast of the mother?

Officers of the Family Welfare association are beginning to believe so. For more than two months officers of that organization have been trying to find a property owner in Lima willing to rent a house to a mother of five children. The mother is the sole support of the family.

The oldest child is seven years and the mother and her five children have been living in two rooms for a year. Three children sleep with her. During the day she works where she can find work to do and returns home in the evening exhausted and facing the prospect of two dingy rooms and a night with three restless children in the same bed.

Repeated appeals have been made for a house for the mother, officers stated Friday, but Lima property owners apparently are afraid the children will depreciate value. So the mother with five children dependent upon her, "lives" in two rooms.

The mother is aided by the association and is listed as reliable and an excellent mother. As her share of the rewards of Lima citizenship she wants a house to which she can bring work. In this way she can rear as well as support her children. But the house has not been forthcoming because, it is said, no one wants to rent around the children.

The Family Welfare association will be glad to consider renting a house at not more than $15 per month. And the owner must be willing to permit five children to live there, Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson states.

Chief Lanker Near Ducking In Rope Tangle

Opportunity for members of the board of life saving examiners to display their skill was almost afforded when the board was conducting a tour of swimming places in and near the city, Thursday afternoon.

The inspection party first called at McCullough lake and walked over onto the dock where a life buoy was hanging on a post. Of course everyone present wanted to try his skill at throwing the buoy out into the lake.

Chief of Police Lanker was first. Carefully untangling the line he let it fall at his feet, then braced himself for a mighty effort.

Out spun the buoy and as the rope spent itself it became tangled about one of the chief's legs and only thru the efforts of the chief in lurching backward was he able to remain on the dock. A sigh was heard from the life saving experts.

Lanker would have had 12 feet of water to fall in had he followed the buoy.

BARGE SWEEPED OUT IN STORM

Vessel Dashed Helplessly Before Gale in High Seas

BROKEN LOOSE FROM TUG

70 Persons Rescued from Island in Pacific Ocean

ERIE, Pa. — (Associated Press) — Four men were adrift today in Lake Erie on two barges belonging to the New York Canal and Great Lakes Transportation Company.

The barges, being towed between Erie and Buffalo, broke loose early today just as a severe storm swept the lake.

The towboat Rensselaer, after making a futile effort to rescue the bargemen was forced to put into Erie by the rough waters.

The barge was towed into Lorain harbor by tugs. She did not sink.

Members of the crew from Cleveland were:

Joseph Norton, Paul Condon, Louis J. Gilbert, Theodore Deering and Richard Holm.

70 MEN RESCUED

SEATTLE, Washington — (Associated Press) — Officers and men of the naval mine sweeper Cardinal, wrecked on the east coast of Chirikof Island south of the Alaskan peninsula, have been taken aboard the naval supply ship Cayama, according to a message received at the United States naval radio station at Bremerton this morning.

The message said that a preliminary survey indicated the Cardinal was a total loss.

SEATTLE, Washington — (Associated Press) — Rescue of seventy men from the mine sweeper Cardinal of the United States navy, clinging to the jagged margin of Chirikof Island in the Pacific ocean, 100 miles south of the Alaska peninsula, was to be attempted today.

According to the latest word from the scene of the disaster to the Cardinal which was given up for a total loss, the oil tanker Guyama of the navy and the exploration steamer Discoverer of the coast and geodetic survey were standing by.

The Discoverer which arrived soon after the Cardinal hit yesterday, struck the rocks herself in attempting a rescue.

The Guyama which had gone north with the Cardinal to await the arrival of a fleet of submarines that is to tour the Alaskan waters, was 150 miles from her companion and hurried to her aid.

CREW RESCUED

LORAIN — (Associated Press) — Seven members of the crew of the barge Bottsford of Saginaw, Michigan, were rescued by Lorain guards, early today after the vessel had rammed the pier here and sprung a leak. The Bottsford was being towed here from Cleveland by the steamer Smoot.

Laird and was carried into the pier by a high wind after her tow line had snapped. Captain James Hall of Saginaw was in command of Bottsford. Members of the crew were Clevelanders.

EX-OFFICER SLAIN

Shot by Cincinnati Detective While Resisting Arrest

(CINCINNATI — (United Press) — Grief and moonshine were held responsible today for the death of Wallace Speer, 33, a former patrolman after he had terrorized mourners at his grandmother's funeral.

Speer was shot by William McCorkhill, detective, after he had held a cordon of police at bay while barricaded in a room adjoining the death chamber of Mrs. Hattie Page, 72.

In the room Peer held Charles Hartley, patrolman, a prisoner and threatened to shoot him if police entered.

Fearing the defendant man would make good his threat, McCorkhill approached a window of the room and fired. Authorities believe Speer had been drinking in an effort to forget his grief over Mrs. Page's death.

CHICAGO WOMAN INSURES HER LIFE FOR $2,000,000

CHICAGO — Life insurance totaling $2,000,000, said to be the largest ever issued to a woman in the United States, has been taken out by Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field, wife of Marshall Field I of Chicago. It became known here today.

Her husband, head of a LaSalle street brokerage firm and heir to the $20,000,000 Field estate, is named as sole beneficiary. Mr. Field is said to carry more than a million dollars insurance, all of which is in favor of his wife.

WED AT SHRINE CONVENTION

With hundreds of convention Shriners looking on and surrounded by a fraternal guard, Miss Ruth Ethel Pawal and Ninder E. Brostrom, noble of Abu Baku Temple, Sioux City, Ia., were married in the shadow of Washington Monument. Here bride and groom are riding to the wedding.

SHRINE PAGEANT REPEATED

Held Again for Benefit of Washington School Children

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The three Pullman car cities which housed thousands of the Shriners attending their annual convention here had dissolved into special trains today which began the homeward exodus in the early hours.

The convention program was brought formally to a close with the pageant and dancing on Pennsylvania-av last night but the pageant was being repeated today for the benefit of Washington school children. There also were several entertainment features, including a marine corps infantry demonstration on the program today for Shriners remaining over.

The conclave rose to a climax of festive color and crowds last night, not even eclipsed by inaugural scenes on the avenue. Before the last float in the pageant of historic scenes had passed the president and Mrs. Harding in their stand in front of the White House, thousands of spectators had swarmed into the street in the rear of the procession.

Those who had viewed it from the capital end of the avenue, pressed up town until at one time the density of the crowd in the vicinity of the treasury building gave the police an exciting time in attempting to control it. No injuries were reported however.

The sudden swarming of the crowd estimated at more than 150,000 persons, on the avenue, somewhat disarranged plans for spreading the thousands of cornmeal thrown on the street in preparation for the "dance of the states." The dance got under way however and continued for more than an hour on a stretch of eight or ten blocks to the strains of band music distributed by amplifiers over the thoroughfare.

Leaving their box before the dance began, the president and Mrs. Harding returned to the White House to witness from there the brilliant pyrotechnic display over the Washington monument grounds.

WOMAN IS SHOT

Dayton Man Jailed on Charge of the Attack

DAYTON — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Elizabeth Donahy, 60, is said to be dying in St. Elizabeth hospital with a bullet in her abdomen and Frank Longo, 72, is in Central station charged with the shooting as the result of a neighborhood quarrel last night.

The shooting took place on the sidewalk in full view of several persons and passing automobiles. Hundreds of persons were attracted to the scene by the noise of the shot.

The quarrel which led to the shooting is said to have been of several months duration and started thru children of the two families police were told.

BODY IS PLACED UNDER CULVERT

Police Trace Clues in Mystery Slaying at Youngstown

BARED BY ANONYMOUS NOTE

Officers Told in Letter Where to Find Remains

YOUNGSTOWN — (United Press) — The woman's body was found in a watery crypt near here today has been partially identified as that of Mrs. Alice Drachman, who disappeared from the Youngstown Y. W. C. A. the night of May 31.

Miss Helen Johnson, Y. W. C. A. matron, identified the clothing as similar to that worn by Miss Drachman when she left her room to take a music lesson.

YOUNGSTOWN — (United Press) — A fashionably dressed woman's body was taken from beneath a culvert near here today, following receipt of an anonymous note to police.

Marks on the body indicated the woman had fought desperately with her slayer, Deputy Sheriff Donahay said.

Donahay believes it to be a "placid case of murder" and that the body was placed in its watery crypt some time after the slaying.

The body was clad in a grey dress, grey shoes and stockings and a grey hat.

EXPERTS AT WORK

Handwriting experts were immediately put to work on the letter and detectives began running down several clues, including the mysterious disappearance of a woman here last night.

The victim's head had been bound in a "thin duster." Police had to cut the binding, which disclosed features almost beyond recognition and a wealth of light brown hair.

A bloody newspaper near the body had the date of May 23.

There was evidence of an attempt to cover up the body with loose clothing. The body had been washed away by heavy rains.

MYSTERIOUS NOTE

The mysterious note addressed to the chief of police, was mailed in Youngstown, Pa. It was written in pencil on tablet paper and said:

"I have murdered at the culvert on the Hubbard road near the Wilbur Wright field. I took away one of her shoes and put it beside the road, hoping someone would find it."

Deputy Donahay expressed belief the slayer lost courage and did not want to see the body left under the culvert.

STABBED IN BREAST

YOUNGSTOWN — (Associated Press) — Following directions contained in an anonymous note, police today found the half clad body of a woman stuffed under a culvert in a country road near here. The body was found in a "thin duster" and evidently had been under the culvert for several days. One of the woman's shoes had been placed on top of the culvert, apparently to draw attention.

As the note which the body was found in said, "I have murdered at the culvert on the Hubbard road near the Wilbur Wright field. I took away one of her shoes and put it beside the road, hoping someone would find it."

Deputy Donahay expressed belief the slayer lost courage and did not want to see the body left under the culvert.

DIRECTOR QUILTS

Woman Designs Position at Delaware Girls' School

DELEWARE, Ohio — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Beatrice P. Hinz, director of the Delaware Industrial School for Girls, today tendered her resignation to become effective at once. Mrs. Hinz's resignation follows on the removal by State Welfare Director Harper of Mrs. Mae Stannard, chief matron on charges of cruelty to inmates and irregularities at the institution.

John McManis, great supervisor of the school, is in charge of public welfare in the Columbus city after making an examination of the school. Mrs. Hinz is in "good condition."

Mrs. Stannard has been in which to file an appeal with the state civil service commission from the order of removal.

BOY SCOUT IS DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING AT DAYTON

DAYTON — Robert Davis, Jr., 18-year old boy scout, was drowned in the Dayton area on Island Park, while swimming with other scouts last night.

The boy's body was found in deep water next to the dam.

The Davis boy with other members of the troop and a scoutmaster went swimming in the Dayton area last night. Young Davis was missing 25 minutes, when one of the scouts noticed his clothes lying on the bank. Immediately several scouts entered the water in search for the body.

Scout Webster Dixon found it almost immediately.

PROTECT BATHERS IS AIM HERE

Board of Life Saving Examiners
Will Make Suggestions

VISITS SWIMMING PLACES

Hover Lake is Favored as Logical Rendezvous

Practical suggestions that if carried out will eliminate much of the danger now facing bathers and prevent another tragedy such as occurred when Samuel Baxter drowned in McBeth lake, will be made to owners and managers of swimming places by the board of life saving examiners, following an inspection tour made Thursday of swimming places in and near Lima.

Places visited by the board include McCullough lake, Hover lake, McBeth lake and the old Klinger stone quarry. While precautions to prevent accidents are taken at McCullough park, the board found there was virtually no protection afforded at Hover lake and the stone quarry. Bathing is not permitted in McBeth lake.

The first place visited was McCullough park where, they found W. J. Hoffman, lessee of the park, willing to co-operate with the board and carry out any suggestions made. Hoffman has already provided a life saving, life boat and other equipment to protect swimmers. He remains at the lake during the day and is a capable swimmer.

At the stone quarry, said by the board to be the most treacherous body of water in Lima, virtually no equipment was found in the way of boats or life buoys. Although swimming is not permitted in the quarry, many boys go in the water daily. In places the board found the bank was almost perpendicular, with the water over 30 feet deep in places. Several fatalities have already occurred in the quarry.

The board intends to post warning signs around the water, requesting persons not to go in swimming there.

HOVER LAKE FAVORED
Hover lake met the approval of the board as a logical swimming place and when the party visited the lake it found more than a score of boys in swimming.

Water in the lake is not only clean, but the banks slope down gradually and the water is not more than two or perhaps three feet deep near the banks. It is possible for small boys to wade out in the lake 15 feet without the water covering their heads.

Floating water-tight kegs anchored to the bottom of the lake, life ropes and life buoys will probably be provided. The board may also maintain a life guard at Hover lake during the summer.

Although swimming is not permitted at McBeth lake, the board will confer with P. S. Laux, lessee, securing his permission for a boat and other life saving equipment to be maintained there for use in case of emergency.

Members of the board who made the trip were: City Manager C. A. Bingham, Chief of Police T. A. Luncy, Fire Chief John Mack, C. L. Conrad, boy scout executive; Harry O'Connor of the Red Cross; W. A. Plam, swimming instructor for the Boy Scouts; and I. G. Maxwell, Roy Armstrong and R. T. Veal, of the Y. M. C. A.

The Village Blacksmith

by HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

Under a spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands;
The smith, a mighty man is he,
With large and sinewy hands;
And the muscles of his brawny arms
Are strong as iron bands.

His hair is crisp, and black and long,
His face is like the tan;
His brow is wet with honest sweat,
He earns what'er he can,
And looks the whole world in the face,
For he owes not any man.

Week in, week out, from morn till night,
You can hear his bellows blow;
You can hear him swing his heavy sledge,
With measured beat and slow,
Like a sexton ringing the village bell,
When the evening sun is low.

And children coming home from school
Look in at the open door,
They love to see the flaming forge,
And hear the bellows roar,
And catch the burning sparks that fly
Like chaff from a threshing floor.

He goes on Sunday to the church,
And sits among his boys;
He hears the parson pray and preach,
He hears his daughter's voice,
Singing in the village choir,
And it makes his heart rejoice.

It sounds to him like his mother's voice,
Singing in Paradise!
He needs must think of her once more,
How in the grave she lies,
And with a hard, rough hand he wipes
A tear out of his eyes.

Toiling—rejoicing—sorrowing,
Onward through life he goes,
Each morning sees some task begun,
Each evening sees it close;
Something attempted, something done,
Has earned a night's repose.

Thanks, thanks, to thee, my worthy friend,
For the lesson thou has taught!
Thus at the flaming forge of life
Our fortunes must be wrought;
Thus on its sounding anvil shaped
Each burning deed and thought!

This thrilling photoplay is a film masterpiece and should not be missed by any one.

The Present and The Future

YOUR MONEY SHOULD BE SO PLACED THAT IT WILL BE SAFE BOTH TODAY AND TOMORROW.

In the present period of unusual business activity and high prices in all lines, it is more necessary than ever to be careful in investing money. Five per cent interest is a liberal return where safety is absolute.

Among the financial institutions of Lima we are known as conducting a conservative business and paying five per cent on deposits. We place the additional profits into an adequate reserve, now more than $92,000.00, as a further protection for our depositors.

We propose to continue these policies and upon the basis of safety we seek your account.

GERMANY TOLD TO STOP FIGHT

France Demands Resistance Cease Immediately

FOLLOWS NEW PAY OFFER

Reply to Berlin's Reparations Plan Considered

PARIS — (United Press) — France sent to Germany today a strongly worded note demanding that resistance to the Inter-allied military control commissions cease immediately.

Premier Poincaré will communicate with the other allies regarding the advisability of replying to the latest German reparations offer but in the meantime he made it clear to Germany that the latter policy of sabotage and resistance must end before any agreement can be reached.

The Inter-allied commission will resume at once surveillance of German military organizations. French and Belgian officers will participate. After the occupation of the Ruhr, Germany is responsible for possible attacks upon the commission.

The French cabinet will meet tomorrow to discuss the reparations situation.

GERMANY'S VIEW — (Associated Press) — Reichstag leaders here today noted the allied reply to the German reparations plan. The German government especially noted the allied demand that the Ruhr be placed under the control of the allied forces and the allied demand to arrive at a solution of the problem and also because the allied demand to place the Ruhr under the control of the allied forces.

Despite this, the parliamentary circles are not displaying an excessive optimism concerning the reception of the memorandum by the allied powers. In the quarters it is believed that France has effectively blocked any attempt by Germany to create a favorable atmosphere for future negotiations by seeking to influence Belgium and the Netherlands.

In planning the future of the Ruhr as the chief guarantee of the German government has adopted one of the principal suggestions contained in the recent memorandum drawn up by the industrialists' federation. While the note does not specifically state that the national system of railways and all the physical properties connected with it are to be placed in the custody of the allied forces and conducted wholly as a private enterprise, the industrialists understand that this would be the government's procedure and that the lines would be hypothecated for the capital sum of 10,000,000,000 gold marks. The mortgage bonds would yield five percent netting an annual return of 500,000,000 gold marks. In connection with the second guarantee the German government is confident that with the application of rigid legislative pressure, a sum considerably in excess of 500,000,000 gold marks could be produced by the first mortgage on real estate. For immediate seizure the government has at its disposal only the physical properties of the industrialists, the shipping and banking interests and the armaments, all of whom are said to have given Chancellor Brüning an unequivocal assurance of their material assistance. However, it is confidently believed that the total to be realized from this whole-ale mortgage could be materially increased by the yield from city and private real estate which would be hypothecated on a favorable basis.

Early plans for the creation of a tobacco monopoly were abandoned as unfavorable because the amount of funds required to finance private industry and also in view of the experiences of national monopolies in other countries where exclusive government control has invariably resulted in inferior production. The government now proposes to levy a heavy excise tax on all forms of tobacco and will also force customs revenues from commodities classified as luxuries.

CHIROPRACTOR LOSES SUIT AGAINST STATE BOARD

Zihir Ward Wiser, Middletown chiropractor, was lost in a suit in Allen common pleas court filed to compel the Ohio Medical Board to license him for practice.

He filed suit against the medical board and retained practice under bond at Middletown.

Judge Becker's decision annulling the action of the medical board.

WOMAN ATTACKED

COLUMBI — A line storelock, aged 32, formerly of Lima, was cut across the face last night when she was accosted by an Italian known as Tony Ferro, Marion, with whom she formerly kept company. Ferro is said to have stopped Mrs. Monlock in front of her residence and asked her to go with him. When she refused he drew a knife and cut her.

BOARD OF COMMERCE TO WAGE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE 4 FOR AERONAUTICAL CLUB

I am well to placed on the aeronautical map if plan of the Board of Commerce materializes.

At a joint meeting of the directors and members of the executive committee Thursday evening it was decided to enter an active campaign for membership in the Lima chapter of the National Aeronautical Association.

The national organization, with headquarters at Washington, is active in the effort to bring to citizens of the country a realization of the importance of aviation development and aeronautics.

Local interest is not awake to the fact that eventually the air will be one of the chief factors of transportation. J. D. Morton, manager of the board, declared.

Participation in the national program for aerial progress will bring to Lima the reward of such progress. It is stated, and the membership campaign for the local club will be held not only on national territory.

FIGHT ON QUEEN'S WILL FAILS

Stands Thru Four Suits in Hawaiian Courts

CVE CLAIMANT IMPRISONED

Sensational Battle Waged Over Former Monarch's Property

(Associated Press) — A sensational fight over the will of the late Queen Liliuokalani, last monarch of Hawaii, which the courts here since 1917, has been terminated by the withdrawal of Mrs. Kahakauilua Keawe Nawahie, the plaintiff, from the case. The 30-year-old woman, who is known as "The Sleeping Waters," was brought in an action to have the will of the late queen set aside, claiming that she was the next of kin of the former queen.

The suit was filed by the late monarch's nephew, Prince Kihio Kalanianiʻōpule, who is a Hawaiian minister, who claimed that he witnessed the signature of the queen to the document, and that it was a forgery. He claimed that the queen was in a state of mind to make a will, and that she was not coerced or deceived.

The case was heard in the territorial supreme court, and the judge ruled in favor of the plaintiff, Mrs. Keawe. The judge found that the queen was not of sound mind when she made the will, and that she was coerced and deceived by the defendant, Prince Kihio.

The judge sentenced the defendant to three years' imprisonment. She was released recently at the conclusion of her term.

Mrs. Nawahie's contest was dismissed some time ago on the ground that she had failed to prove her contention that she was related to the queen. She appealed to a jury but after long court delays withdrew her suit, she told the court, because all of the attorneys she consulted told her that her suit was hopeless.

CERTIFICATE SALE FOR MAY AMOUNTS TO $4700

Sales of Treasury Savings certificates thru the local postoffice for the month of May amounted to $4,700 according to Postmaster A. E. Gale.

"Treasury Savings certificates are popular chiefly because they are absolutely safe," Gale said. "They run for five years from date of issue and can be redeemed at any time, and as they are registered at the Treasury Department at Washington, the owner is protected at all times against loss or theft."

Both principal and interest are exempt from state and federal taxation, excepting estate and inheritance tax, Gale said. An additional reason for their popularity, Gale declared, is the fact that every cent invested is returned to the community within five years.

Treasury Savings certificates are issued in the denominations of $1,000, $100 and $25.

DOUSTER CASE UP TO HIGH COURT

Ex-Mayor of Massillon Demands Reinstatement by Donahay

CONTESTED ON 3 GROUNDS

Evidence to Show His Guilt Declared Absent

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—Removal of Mayor H. Vogt of Massillon by Governor Donahay on charges of misconduct and failure to enforce prohibition laws, was contested on three grounds by the deposed mayor's counsel in argument presented to the supreme court today in Vogt's suits to regain his office. They were that the laws under which Vogt was removed are unconstitutional, that there was no evidence adduced at the hearing before the governor showing that Vogt had been guilty of the charges against him while serving his second term as mayor and that the governor's reasons for removal were not made specific as required by law.

Both suits brought by Vogt were heard at the same time. One seeks to compel Governor Donahay to reinstate him as mayor and the other seeks to order H. C. L. Kirchhoff, who became mayor on Vogt's removal, to vacate the office. The ouster proceedings against Kirchhoff were not pressed seriously, however, former Attorney General McGehee declaring that this suit had been filed merely as a matter of protecting Vogt's rights as he was not certain until the mandamus suit was filed against Governor Donahay that this was the proper procedure.

QUESTION OF ELECTION
The court did not take the ouster proceedings seriously either, in view of the fact that Vogt had received his certificate of election from the Stark county election board which was considered by the court sufficient to balk any contention that Mayor Vogt had not been duly elected in view of the court's decision in the Cincinnati case that there was no provision for electing independent candidates in municipalities of more than 2,000 population. Attorney General Crabbe who represented Governor Donahay had raised the question that Vogt had not been duly elected in view of the court's decision on independent candidates. Vogt had been elected as an independent candidate.

The constitutionality of the laws providing for removal of mayors by the governor was attacked by the former attorney general on the ground that the constitution provided for the filing of charges and a hearing, which he asserted makes the governor a quasi-judicial officer. In such cases, giving the accused the right to summon witnesses and compel their attendance. Under the present law, he said, there is no provision for compelling the attendance of witnesses and in fact that many witnesses summoned by Vogt did not show up and could not be made to attend.

McGehee also contended that Vogt had been denied a full public hearing because he had not been permitted to inspect affidavits filed against him and also that there was no evidence showing that Vogt had been guilty of the charges since last August when Governor Davis had dismissed charges preferred against him prior to that time.

As to the charge that Vogt had failed to enforce prohibition laws, McGehee declared that in justice to Vogt it should be taken into consideration that he had only eleven policemen working in three shifts to enforce all laws.

McGehee asserted that in all his public and private practice he had not seen a decision "so grossly unjust and so arbitrary" as the governor's decision in removing Vogt. Attorney General Crabbe argued in support of the law's constitutionality that Vogt had been given a full hearing and that Governor Donahay's decision was in keeping with the evidence.

SEEK RELEASE OF 3 WITNESSES

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Heard in Appeals Court

Habeas corpus proceedings designed to release from custody Herbert Delaney, Carl Devaney and Ralph Swartzler, witnesses in the slaying of George Johnson, was heard before court of appeals judges Friday afternoon.

Attorneys sought their release on the ground that they are held without authority. The trio is under $2,000 bond each, which they are unable to furnish.

Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott resisted the effort to free them. If they are released, he fears they will leave the county.

Bruce Reynolds, ball player, is charged with the crime. He is alleged to have struck Johnson in the head with a bat, during an altercation which started over a card game at 220 E. Second-st., on Memorial Day.

LIMA MAN WINS PRAISE

Ben Ogile, 674 N. West-st., former trombone player with the Paurot opera house orchestra, now directing the band with the Golden Rule show, a carnival company, won praise of the charity committee of the Elks lodge of Logan, Ohio, for aid given in an event staged by the lodge there. The Elks charity event was successful in every way, officers of the lodge stated in a letter to Ogile and his band is given credit for making it possible.

HUGE BROKERAGE
FIRM FAILS

Largest New York Curb Market
House in Bankruptcy

RECORDS ARE DEMANDED

Investigation Made by District
Attorney

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—
District Attorney Banton who is investigating charges of bucketing against several bankrupt brokerage houses, today called on the police to aid him in tracing records of the curb market house of L. L. Winkelman and Company which disappeared a few minutes after an involuntary bankruptcy petition had been filed.

Assistant District Attorney Gibbs reported he had been informed that several large packages, presumably records of the firm, had been taken away in a taxicab.

Failure of the Winkelman house, which was the largest firm holding membership in the New York curb market, intensified Banton's campaign against brokers alleged to have operated in a questionable manner. United States Attorney Hayward also has entered the investigation seeking an alleged conspiracy to defraud investors.
George Gordon Battle, attorney for the firm, denied that any records had been removed from the Winkelman offices after announcement of the failure.

DOORS REOPENED

The filing of the bankruptcy petition was the climax of an exciting forenoon around the Winkelman offices during which the doors of the firm were temporarily closed only to be opened later.

Liabilities of the Winkelman firm were placed at $1,750,000 and assets at $1,500,000 in an application for re-ceivership made before Federal Judge Bondy.

The firm has offices in Chicago,
Philadelphia, Cleveland, Akron, Zaneville, Marietta and Findlay, Ohio, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Milwaukee,
Parkersburg, W. Va. and Greensburg and Uniontown, Pa.

It was the largest house actively in business on the curb market today, the only other large one, that of Jones and Baker, having gone into bankruptcy and been suspended last week.

Members of the firm are L. L. Winkelman and A. K. Nicholson.

Nicholson formerly was a member of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, but resigned several months ago after an investigation of his affairs had been instituted by the board of governors.

SENSATIONAL CASE

A year ago Nicholson figured in sensational court case when he cautioned the arrest of Miss Malvina Richman, an actress whom he charged with having held him prisoner in her Riverside Drive apartment for three days and nights, forcing him to sign checks for large sums and robbing him of a $5,000 stockpin and other jewelry. Miss Richman was indicted for grand larceny but has not yet been brought to trial.

The bankruptcy petition was filed by the Sorg Printing Company, Charles
E. Brady and Packard Brothers, Inc.

Suspension of the Winkelman firm from the New York curb market was announced shortly before noon.

Bankruptcy of the firm resulted in extensive forced liquidation of many stocks which yielded 1 to 3 points under the selling pressure. Standard Oils of Indiana and Ohio were among the leading stocks to lose a point or more. Attorney Battle issued a statement declaring his clients asserted they were solvent and intended to cooperate with the receiver to the fullest extent for the protection of their customers.

THIEVES FLEE ON FINDING
BABY IN STOLEN AUTO

CLEVELAND — Automobile
thieves were thwarted in an attempt to escape with a stolen machine early today when practically all available police were thrown into the west side to save a five-month-old baby asleep on the rear seat of the missing car.

The automobile, stolen from a parking site in rear of the Edgewater Park dance hall, about 9 p. m., was not located until shortly after midnight.

The thieves apparently frightened at discovery of the small bundle of humanity asleep in the rear seat abandoned the car on west 116th-st.

The baby, Eugenia Claire Thompson, daughter of Edwards Thompson, was still in a dreamland when Patrolman Carl F. Bauer opened the door of the sedan and breathlessly peered in to see if the child was still safe.

NEW TRIAL IS GRANTED;
TRANSFER OF CASE DENIED

New trial was granted Friday by appeals court in a personal injury action brought against the L. E. & W. Railroad by J. H. Miller. It was held that the lower court had erred in overruling a motion for a new trial.

Error proceedings were filed by the railroad company in court of appeals. Miller obtained a $7,000 judgment in common pleas court in December, 1922.

Appeals court in the case of Clark
McDonald, yard clerk against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for $75,000 damages, has denied an application to transfer the case to another court.

The matter has been tried in common pleas court twice. McDonald winning judgments of $23,000 and $25,000. He suffered alleged permanent injuries while employed on the railroad in 1917.

TWO BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits were issued by the city Friday to G. P. Schaefer,
659 Dewey-av., to build a garage at 658 Dewey-av. and to Mrs. Gertrude
Laddy, to build a garage at 753
Wendock-av., costing $75.

GUNMEN HIRED AS "POLICEMEN"

Used as Protection of Winners by Gambling Houses

RESULT OF BANDIT RAIDS

Patrons of Dens Held up and Robbed by Thugs

PHILADELPHIA — (United Press) — Gunmen, who boast of using on the handles of their automatic pistols, are now acting as "police" for gambling houses, protecting winners from bandit raids.

The annual situation was brought about when bandits opened an operation for a night in Philadelphia. The bandits, however, failed to "pull off" and the gambling houses faced disruption.

Bandits, however, failed to "pull off" and the gambling houses faced disruption. Bandits, however, failed to "pull off" and the gambling houses faced disruption.

Orders to "stay off" were issued to the "patrolmen" and they were held up and robbed by thugs.

When the "patrolmen" were held up and robbed by thugs, the "patrolmen" were held up and robbed by thugs.

The first known "official" act of the police occurred recently when a man, prominent socially, suggested to friends at a dinner party that they go slumming.

Nothing occurred. The party departed quietly from the cafe. Suddenly, a dozen gunmen acted as an escort. To this day the party is unconscious of the fact that on their return trip to the Ritz-Carlton Hotel they were surrounded by protectors.

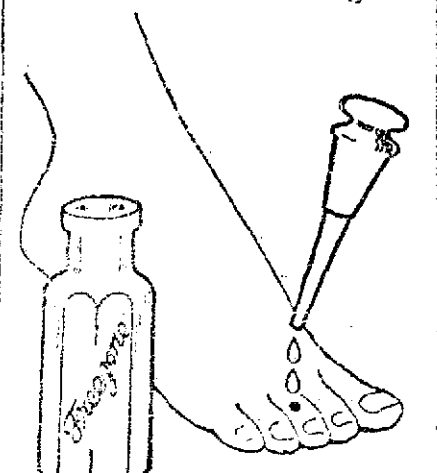

THE FIRST VICTIM — James Harrington, better known in the underworld as "Two Gun" and "Doc Nose," was the first victim of the war between gamblers and bandits.

Harrington entered a gambling house recently and presented to the owner a list containing the names of virtually every gambling establishment in the city, with a sum each was expected to contribute marked. Harrington is said to have declared the money was to be used to retain a criminal lawyer to start habeas corpus proceedings for bandits held for robbing a gambling house, patron. The gambler refused to contribute. Harrington was ejected.

"Purina" Made the Difference!

EQUAL in laying ability. But the hen on the right was fed a common grain ration while the other was fed Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow. Grains have lots of material for yolks, but far too little for whites. As they can't lay yolks only, grain-fed hens lay fewer eggs.

Purina Poultry Chow is a complete ration, containing material for an equal number of whites and yolks. They get the most out of your hens, and cut the feeding cost per dozen eggs.

More Eggs Guarantee — You get your money back if Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow, fed as directed, don't produce more eggs than any other ration. Why should you put off a trial when we take the risk?

BIG INCREASE IN TAXES SHOWN

President Harding Declares the Situation is Alarming

CUT IN EXPENSES URGED

Data is Given by Chief Executive in Letter

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Every means possible "should be employed to insure against unnecessary increase in the cost of government," declared President Harding in a letter to Prof. M. B. Lambie of University of Minnesota, made public today.

Professor Lambie is secretary of the League of Minnesota Municipalities which will hold its annual convention at a fair on June 20 and 21.

"There is no more important duty confronting public officials everywhere than the enforcement of the utmost measure of economy consistent with good administration," wrote President Harding.

"This has been a fundamental of the national administration's policy. I cannot too strongly endorse every effort that your league may support to carry a like policy into the realm of municipal administration."

IMPRESSIVE FIGURES
"The national burden of taxation," said the president, "is a direct and most onerous charge against the national income; it bears heavily upon every kind of business and production."

Continuing, the president wrote: "Within the past few days the census bureau at my request, has furnished some figures which seem to me to impress as nothing else could the necessity for the most careful administration in every governmental unit. They state for example, that revenues from all sources of the state governments in 1913 aggregated $368,000,000 and in 1921, $559,000,000, an increase of 51 per cent. Expenditures arose from $333,000,000 in 1913 to $1,000,000,000 in 1921, an increase of 150 per cent. Indebtedness increased from $423,000,000 in 1913 to $1,012,000,000 in 1921, an increase of 139 per cent. These figures hardly require comment because they demonstrate so conclusively, it seems to me, that costs of state governments are rising at a rate which justifies the most serious consideration."

CITY GOVERNMENTS
"Along with the foregoing data regarding cost of state governments, the census bureau has furnished some figures on the increase in cost of city governments. These figures are based on the returns of the government of 257 of the largest cities in the country. It is shown that for cities in this group revenues in 1913 amounted to $880,000,000 and in 1921 $1,567,000,000, an increase of 78 per cent. For the same group expenditures were $1,010,000,000 in 1913 and in 1921 $1,726,000,000, an increase of 71 per cent. Aggregate indebtedness of 1913 was $2,400,000,000 and in 1921 $4,334,000,000, an increase of 49 per cent."

WHISKY FLOWS TO NEW YORK

reached Rouses Point—Malone state road east of Burke. Then we traversed more lovely country roads for another 15 miles until the state highway was joined just below Whippleville.

A big truck which we encountered after the border had been crossed was being unloaded about four miles east of Chateaugay. Five men were carrying sacks of bottles across a field a quarter of a mile to three smaller automobiles. They worked almost in darkness.

"I take a different route every so often. It depends on where we hear the officers are working. The routes are numerous. They begin at Montreal, at and near Napierville, Lacole, St. Martine, Ormstown, Bryson, Huntindon, or along the boundary where there are no towns but farms with one out of every dozen barns stocked with liquor. Once we get south of a line east and west between Plattsburg and Potsdam we can afford to take the state roads and mingle with other tourist travel.

"We are confident the state troopers will do no more than they must now that the state enforcement law is gone. As to bribery, its cheaper and safer not to try it."

GOVERNMENT'S POSITION

WASHINGTON — (United Press) —With bootleggers operating on the Canadian border of New York, bringing in thousands of gallons of liquor, federal prohibition officials here treated the situation with apparent indifference, declaring that the gravity of the border situation had been "grossly exaggerated."

If the federal government has any plans for meeting the situation—and prohibition Commissioner Haynes says he has none—officials are guarding them in strict secrecy. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the nominal chief of enforcement as Haynes's superior, declaring he knows of no plan of federal action, asserted today that there is apparently no need to stiffen the federal lines in New York or Haynes would have reported it to him. Mellon, however, considers the unguarded border as the most threatening feature of the New York situation.

MURDER PROBERS HUNT GUN WOMAN

Suspected of Killing Wealthy Chicago Insurance Man

TRAIL LEADS TO MILWAUKEE

Many Others Taken, Quizzed in Case, Released

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Police search for the blue-eyed, smiling girl bandit who shot Richard C. Towner, wealthy insurance man, at his home here Tuesday night, has been extended outside Illinois.

Mrs. Gertrude Gelson, 34-year-old woman, was among the dozen or more suspects, whom the police characterize as a notorious gun woman, as being sought in Milwaukee, where she recently known to have been, and her former haunts in Chicago, Peoria and Joliet also are being watched.

Dismissing the theory that Towner was killed by members of a ring of automobile thieves, who the insurance man had exposed and prosecuted, the police say they are convinced that robbery was the motive for the holding of Towner and his wife, which ended in the former's death.

PARTIAL IDENTIFICATION
Mrs. Towner, who says she shot her husband after he had been robbed of about $25 by the girl and a male accomplice, said a photograph of Mrs. Gelson, who nearly resembled her husband's slayer, that of any suspect, shown her.

When shown the photograph of Mrs. Gelson she said if the woman has blue eyes, it was she who killed Mr. Towner.

The peculiar smile and blue eyes of the girl will make it easy for her to identify her, Mrs. Towner said.

More than a score of suspects taken into custody yesterday were released after questioning.

THREE LIMA MEN INDICTED BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Lima police Friday had "cleaned up" three cases pending here for some time.

The federal grand jury at Toledo Thursday indicted three Lima men and one from St. Marys.

One of the Lima men, St. Clair Laycock, 37, of E. Market st., held to the federal court on a charge of driving an alleged stolen automobile from Kokomo, Ind., to Wapakoneta, in violation of the Dyer act.

Louis Silverman and Chandler Hubert are charged with stealing a number of automobile tires from an interstate shipment.

Guy D. Blank of St. Marys is held for alleged violation of the Dyer act. He is accused of buying a stolen automobile shipped from Oklahoma to Ohio.

Local police worked for several weeks on these cases and arrested the two alleged automobile thieves, Pennsylvania Railroad detectives apprehended Silverman and Hubert.

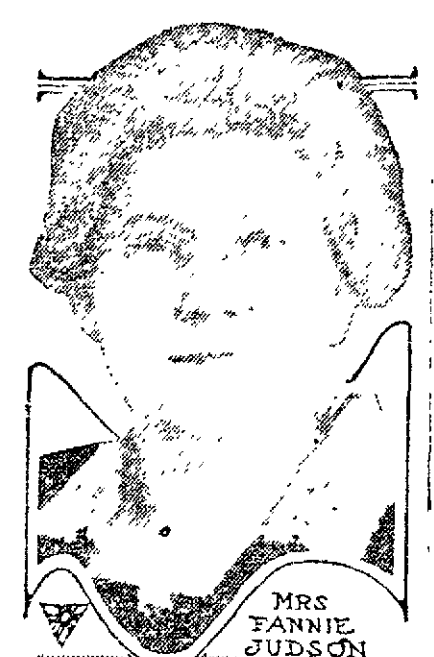

Police Chief Lanier and Detectives' Chief Kipker were witnesses before the grand jury.

CLEVELAND STREET CAR STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

CLEVELAND — Lightning striking a crowded street car in the Euclid av. district late Thursday, caused a panic among passengers, many of whom were cut and lamed in wild stampede to escape.

Edward Tachle, 13, was knocked unconscious when he came in contact with a live wire that had been blown from its overhead mounting into the Gilbert school yard. He was severely burned on the back and amputation of two fingers was necessary.

MRS. FANNIE JUDSON

"There is nothing better I could say for the Tanlac treatment than that I am still enjoying the splendid health it brought me four years ago. I have not had to spend a dollar on medicines since that time," is the statement of Mrs. Fannie Judson, widely known and esteemed resident of 228 Albert Street, Windsor, Ont.

"Before taking Tanlac I had suffered from a complication of ailments, for five years and seemed right on the verge of a complete breakdown. I had fallen off to almost a skeleton and was so nervous I couldn't even hold a writing pen. I couldn't sleep, scarcely ate enough for an invalid and suffered tortures from indigestion."

"I would not go through all that suffering again for $5,000. I used five bottles of Tanlac and gained five pounds for every bottle and am enjoying as good health now as most any schoolgirl."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

milk

—that is the outstanding characteristic of Carnation Milk. For it is simply whole cows' milk with about 60% of the water removed by evaporation. It is then hermetically sealed in its convenient containers and sterilized.

When you serve it at breakfast for creaming coffee, fruit or cereals, use it just as it comes from the can, or dilute it with water, as you prefer. For Carnation Milk has the consistency of rich, country cream.

Use Carnation for every purpose for which you now use milk—for breakfast, luncheon, dinner, and between meals—for cooking, baking and desserts.

Why not try it today? Grocers everywhere sell Carnation.

CREAM OF POTATO SOUP
2 potatoes, 2 tbsp. flour, 2 tbsp. butter, 1 tsp. salt, 3 cups water, 1 tsp. parsley, 1 cup Carnation Milk.
Boil potatoes in cubes and cook until soft in boiling salt water. Beat with fork in water in which potatoes were cooked. Melt butter; add flour; then milk; dilute with water, and cook for five minutes. Add parsley. Combine with potatoes. This recipe serves six people.

MEAT PIE
1 1/2 lbs. beef, 1 cup of potatoes, 1 cup carrots, salt, pepper, slice onion.
Cut meat which has been left from pot roast or cold broiled steak into one-half inch cubes, cook vegetables, make sauce by browning onion in fat, thicken with flour, add seasoning and hot stock or water. Mix meat, vegetables and sauce. Add parsley and pour mixture into buttered baking dish. Cover with crust rolled one-eighth inch thick and bake 15 to 20 minutes. This recipe serves six people.

BOILED SOFT CUSTARD
2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups water, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. vanilla.
Beat egg yolks slightly, add sugar and salt, then add milk, double boiler and stir until mixture thickens and a coating is formed on spoon. Chill and flavor. Serve in sherbet glasses and place the stiffly beaten whites on top. This recipe serves six people. There are many other recipes as good as these in the Carnation Cook Book. Send for it.

CARNATION BISCUIT
1 cup flour, 4 tsp. baking powder, 2 tsp. shortening, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk.
Sift dry ingredients together. Mix in shortening with knife or fingers; add liquids, mix to a soft dough. Roll lightly to one-half inch in thickness, cut and bake in hot oven about 15 minutes. This recipe makes about eight biscuits.

DANCER WILL NOT FLEE TO CANADA

Jessica Brown is Defiant in Her Wedding Plans

HALTED BY EX-HUSBAND

Claims Former Wife's Divorce Irregularly Secured

BUFFALO, N. Y. (United Press) — Jessica Brown, former actress dancer, now affianced to the Earl of Northesk, is going to stand pat, and not be chased into Canada by her ex-husband.

"We will let things stand as they are until this little unpleasantness has either been settled or passed over," the fair Jessica said, referring to the intrusion of Earl D. Northesk, her former husband, into the picture just as she was about to become Lady Northesk. Richard claims that the dancer's divorce was secured irregularly, prevented the earl and the girl from getting a license in New York City earlier in the week.

Curled in the corner of a deep divan in the comfortable room of her home here, "The Brown" thoughtfully stroked the head of a magnificent Poodle dog as she told in the first extensive interview she has granted what she and Northesk plan to do next.

"I am at a loss to explain my former husband's statements," Jessica said, her hazel eyes sparkling. "Except that for some reason or other he is trying to drag me into what he expects to gain by that I cannot imagine. Needless to say, all his accusations are absolute falsehoods."

FULL OF FIGHT

Replied to the city clerk in New York that Miss Brown had not lived a sufficient length of time in Illinois to warrant her securing a divorce from him.

The slender dancer was full of fight, as she answered the charges, but very weary.

"Oh," she sighed, "I'm so very tired. It's all so different from what I had expected. We had no definite plans for getting married in the first place. I merely applied for the license, because I knew it would cause a little publicity and I wanted to get it over with. Then we could have used the license at some indefinite time in the future."

"The clerk's refusal to grant it was a terrible surprise to me and as I understand it, only hinged on some small technicality in New York. At the time I got my divorce, my attorneys assured me it was regular in every way. I am not worrying about that."

"And then to have to read in the papers the accusations of my former husband, I must confess it was a shock. But they're false."

The conversation was interrupted by the telephone. It was the Earl, calling from New York.

Miss Brown was in a decidedly more cheerful mood when she returned after a few minutes' conversation.

"That was David," she smiled. "He's leaving for Buffalo. It will be nice to have him here. Our plans still are quite vague, but I can assure you we'll let things stand as they are until this thing is settled."

She sent Lion the poodle dog, to bed with a pat.

"The beginning to understand now what makes women wild," she chuckled. "Don't be surprised, to hear some day that I have run amuck with a hammer."

WHAT'S A RIVER NOWADAYS?

Like Caesar, the men moving this house came, saw and conquered. When eighty Charleston residents had to be moved to clear a site for West Virginia's new capitol, realtors developing a subdivision across the Kanawha river, bought twelve of them and moved them thus-wise. The family living in this particular house left their furniture just as it was. Even the brick-a-brack on the mantelpiece remained undisturbed.

CHINCH BUG GETS BUSY AGAIN

Farmers Report Evidence of Pest to State University

Information at the office of H. J. Ridge, county agent, indicates that northwestern Ohio is again invaded by the chinch bug. Complaints have been received by state university heads from many farmers in this section of the state.

Chinch bugs have not appeared in many Allen-co fields at this time, Ridge said. At this season the insects are just beginning to hatch and before harvest time will be getting in their most effective work.

Following harvest they migrate to the corn fields where they do real damage, Ridge said. Barriers of dust and creosote placed around the corn fields are the most effective methods of keeping the vermin within the wheat stubble.

Annual wheatfield day will be held at the Wooster experiment station June 27. Many small plots of wheat illustrating the variety of farming and fertilization methods will be on exhibition for the benefit of the farmers attending.

June 21 will be poultry day at the station. Methods of poultry raising will be illustrated.

Members of the Spencerville Farm bureau will hold a regular session Friday evening. Preceding the session, members will enjoy a fish fry.

GOMER HIGH SCHOOL GETS SMITH-HUGHES INSTRUCTOR

Gomer high school has been granted an instructor in agriculture and farm shop work, county superintendent C. A. Arganbright was informed Friday in a letter from Ray Eile, vocational supervisor of the state department of education.

Instruction in agriculture and shop work is granted the Gomer high school under provision of the Smith-Hughes act. The state and federal governments furnish approximately 40 per cent of the salary of the instructor and the board of education will receive $300 from state and federal sources for installation of equipment, Arganbright said.

Eile and Arganbright, with Superintendent C. G. Pappin and T. J. Edwards, president of the Sugar Creek-tp board, made a survey of the high school this week and conferred as to arrangements.

Allen-co now has two high schools with Smith-Hughes instruction and it is the hope of Superintendent Arganbright that a third will be so equipped in the near future.

The Bluffton-Richland joint high school has given vocational instruction for five years.

ST. LOUIS MAY BE MADE AIR HUB
Plans to Demand Leadership of Aviation Industry
RAISES $200,000 FOR FIELD
Claims Strategic Position of United States men and civic leaders, gathered at a meeting of the St. Louis Air Board to plan for the Pulitzer Trophy Races and the International Air Meet here in October, accepted the challenge of aerial leaders to "make your city the air center of the United States."

A fund of $200,000 to provide a monster air field to accommodate the planes which will gather here in October was started at the meeting. It has already been oversubscribed.
Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, United States Navy, told those who attended the meeting St. Louis was "admirably" situated to "accept or even demand" aerial leadership.
"You in St. Louis are admirably located to become the focus of the air highways of the United States," Moffett said.
"In addition to the fact you are situated practically in the center of the country, you have another resource, which may have been overlooked. That is the Mississippi river. Because of the adaptability of water planes to landing, flights along river courses will undoubtedly be the most practical. You are here at the center of the Mississippi river system, the Missouri and Ohio rivers, its chief tributaries entering near your city. You are at the hub of the wheel."
While invitations are going out to thousands of the world's leading aviators to take part in the great air regatta, October 1, 3 and 5, and while construction of the new aviation field has been started, business and commercial leaders of the city are investigating the possibilities of making this city a permanent air center, both in the building of planes and in commercial flights.

FILMS MADE FOR 10,000 SCHOOLS

Produced by the Society for Visual Education

WORK OF GREAT SCHOLARS

Lessons in History, Nature, Health, Sanitation Carried

CHICAGO - (Associated Press) - Motion pictures, with the scenarios written by some of the most learned scholars of this age, are now carrying lessons in history, nature, health, sanitation, geography and citizenship to thousands of school children. The subjects are written, directed and filmed by the Society for Visual Education, and distributed to more than 10,000 schools and other institutions in the United States.

The society, founded and financed by some of the most prominent educators and scientists in the country, today has an assortment of films that run into the hundreds, each devoted to a special fundamental school subject.

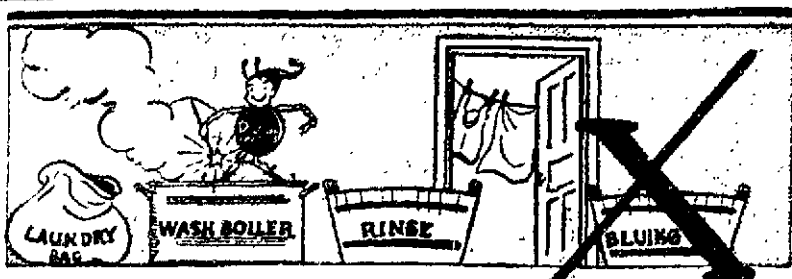

"We have been immeasurably successful in the past," said Prof. J. R. Moulton, president of the society, "and we have prompted our organization that our plans have proved worthy and sound," said Prof. J. R. Moulton, president of the society, "and we have prompted our organization that our plans have proved worthy and sound."

that to life are dynamic and in motion—a static world is dead.

"The film work of the Junior and American Red Cross has been entrusted to us, and the International Health Board, the W. C. T. U., and numerous organizations, witnessing the results of this work, are calling upon us to film subjects for them. State departments of education, welfare organizations, civic and commercial associations, and particularly the schools, are cooperating. The former in a number of state are buying the films outright for state distribution, while others serve as distributors for films obtained from the society.

"Visual education has not been passed upon the commercial movie, nor will it. Our work does not seek to amuse but to translate into reality what often are only words. Neither do we propose to displace text books, models, maps or any other educational means, but to supplement them. Our subjects are filmed for universal instruction. What may be too advanced for a pupil today, these can be seen will be just as good. Our subjects are made to fit the time of need, and our machines are built that any part of the picture can be still and a teacher dwell for any length of time on a salient feature. The camera having the advantage of position, it permits the pupil to observe from every angle.

"The pupils dealing with the study of history are in the greatest demand according to Prof. Moulton. All of the subjects are treated systematically as books are written. Prof. Moulton explained, and in such a way as to supplement text books, laboratories and other means of giving instruction. Schools are becoming better equipped to handle the films, the society having evolved a composite and simple operating machine to assist in the work.

Three kinds of a tub
To wash—to rinse—to blue;
When Pixie blessed the first one
The third had nothing to do!

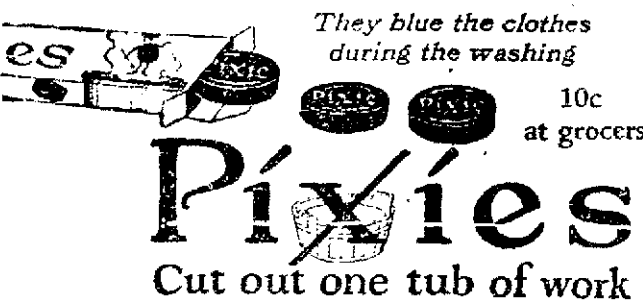

A LITTLE Pixie tablet turns your soap-suds blue in the wash-boiler (or wash tub or washing machine).

Then you put the clothes into those blue suds and boil or wash as usual, thus doing your bluing at the same time. (And doing it better too, because the hot water and the turmoil of the wash-boiler gives a more perfect mixture, avoiding streaks.)

When you rinse, the blue comes away with the soapy water and you take the clothes straight to the clothes line. You don't need the bluing tub at all, and all that work is saved.

You will find the clothes are whiter than ever before.

IT PROVED TO BE REAL GOD-SEND

States Plant Juice Relieved Her of Suffering She Endured Four Years

FEELS 10 YEARS YOUNGER

The power of this celebrated herbal medicine, Plant Juice, was shown once again recently in a testimonial given to The Plant Juice Man by Mrs. Rose Koontz, of 828 Huestes avenue, Fort Wayne, Indiana, popular lady of that city.

MRS. ROSE KOONTZ

"About four years ago I had the 'flu' and it left me in a bed, run down condition," said Mrs. Koontz. "My nerves were so unstrung that the least excitement would affect me so that I would have to go to bed. This nervous condition grew worse until I was unable to sleep and I got so I couldn't eat. The food that I did force myself to eat did not digest right but would make me full up with gas and my heart would thump and jump so at times as a result of this gas that I would think I was going to die. My head would ache so bad that it felt like it would split open. I had hot flashes and dizzy spells and got to feeling so bad in general that I thought I never would be able to get out of the house again."

"A good friend told me about your Plant Juice and advised me to try it and I'm surely thankful now that I did so because I am simply feeling fine all the time since I have taken four bottles. My stomach seems like new. I am never troubled with those terrible headaches or the hot flashes; I have gained weight, am good and strong again and able to do a big day's work. My complexion is good and clear also and I feel 10 years younger. I will say that your Plant Juice proved to be a God-send in my case and I am glad of an opportunity to inure it publicly."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 40 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

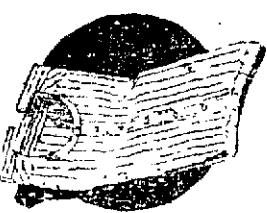

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug store, at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argentine drug store, opposite Post office.

OPEN LETTERS

To City Manager C. A. Bingham

DEAR GENERAL: Thanks, awfully, for restoration of electric light service on my river bridges. It makes a 100 per cent improvement. Thanks again.

LIMA BEANE

To Patrolman William Houtz

MY DEAR BILL: Not forgetting to give all credit and praise to those who had part in rescuing a young man from the water of Hoover lake after he was overcome and unconscious, I want to particularly thank you for the application of the Shaffer method of resuscitation.

Death was inevitable in this case had you not been convinced of the efficacy of the method and applied it persistently.

LIMA BEANE

To School Youth

DEAR YOUNG FOLKS: Class room tasks for most of you have been completed for the term. Vacation is opening. Enjoy it. Live in the open as much as possible, after being housed up during the chill months.

For those of you who have not graduated, there is another school year coming. Build up your bodies and minds by healthful pursuits in the meantime.

LIMA BEANE

To Jupiter Pluvius

MY DEAR JUPITER: Thanks, old chap, for your kindness in breaking a long continued drouth and preventing possible destruction of crops.

LIMA BEANE

To President Harding

DEAR WARREN: Information has come to me that you are desirous of assembling another international conference for the limitation of aircraft. Fine!

The naval limitation conference was a success, but it didn't go far enough. However, there is reason to believe that the next war will be fought mostly from the sky.

I am glad too you are beginning to realize that we have more interest in the world situation than that of a mere innocent bystander.

LIMA BEANE

To Month of June

DEAR JUNE: Glad you are here! You have until this day been making a real hit with all my folks in providing weather conditions that are desirable and seasonable.

LIMA BEANE

To Graduates

MY FRIENDS: My congratulations on the attainment of your scholastic goal. You will realize in after years the sacrifices you have made to attain an education have not been in vain.

As you now stand on the threshold of the more serious part of life, I trust your inclinations will direct you to still higher and better things and that success in generous portions may be yours.

LIMA BEANE

To Benjamin Funnell

KING BEN: You appear to be a much sought after individual, wanted in connection with expose of alleged inner workings of the House of David at Benton Harbor, Michigan. Better come in, Ben, and face the music. They'll get you anyway, eventually.

Mrs. Joe Lark, Democrat, was overwhelmingly chosen for president of the "Woman's Vote" Club, as there's no political election this fall. If anybody that works as hard as a plasterer is worth $10.00 a day, how could the average workman live on what he earns?

To Robert A. Taft

MY DEAR BOB: Your visit to my city for an address before members of my civic bodies in behalf of the emergency tax law of which you are the author, perhaps has changed the opinion of some part of my people concerning the measure, but probably not all of those who have been clamoring for a referendum.

You are the worthy son of an illustrious father and I admire your stand for a principle which you believe to be right, fair and just. However, there would be no zest in government if everybody should agree on everything. Taxation is a ticklish subject, at best.

LIMA BEANE

To Office Seekers

FRIENDS: Time is drawing near when the bars will go down on filings for political positions, save as provided otherwise by law. The ice has been broken, a few have ventured in and others will follow before June 14, the final day.

If you desire to seek the suffrage of the people in the August primary, you must make it known publicly by June 14. And by the way, that is Flag Day, too.

Don't be backward; get in if you want something. Political lightning may strike where you desire.

LIMA BEANE

To the Weatherman

DEAR PROGNOSTICATOR: Thanks, old top, for your goodness of heart made manifest thus far during the month of June. Continue the good work, please.

LIMA BEANE

To Governor A. V. Donahey

MY DEAR VIC: While from a political viewpoint I have been unable to understand your action in appointing Colonel Ben Hough as head of the army in my state, considering events as they transpired last fall, I must congratulate you on your good judgment in one respect.

Not it must be admitted that Colonel Hough is about the best posted military man in the state available for the post. He will hold up your hands so far as the military is concerned, but politically — well, don't expect anything and you'll not be disappointed.

That you are big enough to rise above petty partisanship for the best interests of the national guard redounds to your credit.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Civic Bodies

FRIENDS: July 4th is less than a month away. The anniversary of national independence should be observed in my city in an appropriate manner. Thus far there has been little or nothing suggested along that line.

I trust, however, that whatever may be done will take into consideration safety and sanity. It is not necessary to devise things that destroy human life, in an exemplification of our patriotism.

LIMA BEANE

To Henry Ford

DEAR HANK: I notice that you are playing a seesaw game with the president in a new form of straw vote. If you are a candidate for the presidency, or if you expect to be, you could probably aid your cause by letting it be known.

Come out of your political shell and give your friends — as well as your enemies — a chance to stop shooting in the dark.

FEED THE BAMBINO OATS

A baby who is regular can get constipation is to be opposed. Barley water is probably better than there is a tendency toward diarrhea.

The use of these cereal waters or later of thin cereal gruels aids the digestion of the milk card. Besides, the formula for preparing of modifying milk for a baby a month or two old was given as follows:

Top milk 6 ounces
Milk sugar 1 ounce
Boiled water 14 ounces

Top milk is the upper third carefully removed from the jar or bottle after the cream has risen, with a Chapin milk dipper, which enters the top of a milk bottle.

For a frail or poorly developed or badly nourished infant one ounce of lime water may be added to the formula, to oppose or prevent the curdling of the milk in too large or too dense curds during digestion.

For an infant, more than a month old, instead of lime water it is well to use a cereal water for that purpose. Either barley water or oatmeal water is good replacing all the boiled water in the formula or half of it.

Lime water may be made by placing a heaping teaspoonful of slaked lime in a quart bottle of boiled water, shaking this well for two or three times in the hour, then letting the lime settle to the bottom; after the liquid has stood for 24 hours the upper clear part is lime water ready for use.

Barley water is made by blending a tablespoonful of barley flour with a few spoonfuls of cold water, then adding a pint of boiling water containing two or three wee grains of salt. Cook for half an hour in a double boiler, and strain. Enough water to bring the whole up to a pint again is added.

Oatmeal water is made in the same way using rolled oats or any of the ordinary oatmeals.

Oatmeal water is probably the preferable cereal water for modifying milk when a tendency toward the carbohydrate of the cereals themselves is nutritive.

When the baby has proved himself capable of getting away with the final formula suggested, the amount of the top milk in the formula may be increased by an ounce or two about every two weeks, of course keeping the whole mixture at 29 ounces.

Everybody Worked But Father

Father's stomach trouble seemed to be getting worse all the time and finally he had to quit work altogether. Two brothers and myself gave up school and went to work to support the family. Father had lost sixty pounds in weight and was yellow as saffron and no medicine helped him. Telling a friend about it six months ago, she advised taking May's Wonderful Remedy. I got a bottle and it helped father at once. He was able to go back to work a month later, has regained his weight and strength and eats like a wood chopper. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and cures the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. PROGRESS

When Franklin was a little boy he no doubt heard it told, With grave assurance of the truth by sages wise and old, That men had done most everything on earth there was to do, And everything there was to learn man already knew.

There never was an eager youth who has so often thought That every splendid deed was done and every battle fought; The works of old were brave and bold and men faced dangers grim, But to a finished world he'd come, with nothing left for him.

But year by year the world moves on and stronger grows the race, The old, contented with its past, to youth gives up its place. Old wisdom cries: "Our was is best!" and there would bid us stay, But progress fires the soul of youth to find a better way.

There is no halting place for men. The splendor of the sun Shall never dawn upon a world where all the work is done. Beware the wise who shake their heads and say your dream is vain. Beyond the goals which they have reached, lie greater goals to gain.

There work for you, and you, and you, young men. Within your breasts Then genius, of tomorrow's world today and securely rests. You shall bring wisdom to the wise and ere your race is won you shall have found the way to do what cannot not be done. (Copyright, 1923)

COURT'S DECISION SAVES DOG

Right to Fight for His Bone is Upheld

LIFE DEMANDED FOR ATTACK

Case is Outgrowth of Canine Biting Neighbor's Child

SAN FRANCISCO.—(Special)—A new right has been won for America's dogdom. Recent decisions in various courts have recognized a dog's right as a contestant in legal actions, but now for the first time it has been solemnly decreed that a dog is full legal owner of a bone, once he has it in his possession.

And dogs threaten the country eat. Thank Teddy, local canine resident, Alexander Moslin, his attorney, and Police Judge Sylvain J. Lazarus as they gnaw their soup-bones in peace.

Teddy was brought into Judge Lazarus' court to answer the most serious charge a dog can face. He had attacked a member of the superior race called Man. The victim in this case was the 5-year-old child of a neighbor.

The death penalty was demanded. There was no disputed evidence. Teddy was guilty. That was the end of it. A red row of teeth-marks on the infant's arm constituted the telltale corpus delicti.

FUTURE DARK
Despite his eight years of unimpeachable conduct, things looked black for Teddy.

Of course, the dog's lawyer brought out the fact that the child had tried to rob him of his bone, but what would that avail in a court where all the laws were made for men and none were made for dogs?

Then Judge Lazarus rendered his decision, epochal in the annals of dogdom. It was a rift in the law as far as expectations were concerned. An amazed audience heard him say:

"This dog has done nothing to deserve death."

"The evidence has shown that this dog was gnawing upon a bone. That bone was his own property—and what more valuable property could a dog have than a large, juicy bone?"

"Anyone trying to deprive a dog of such property has violated the letter's most sacred property rights, and it is an invasion which the dog has a right to prevent with force."

TIDE TURNS
"No one would condemn the man who shot a burglar. Yet, if we can get the viewpoint of the dog, his provocation was as great as would be the man's.

HER TOES RAKE IN THE DOUGH

"Judges should always try to comprehend the emotions which actuated the animal on trial."

"And I or any other man been in that dog's place, undoubtedly we would have done as did the dog—try at all hazards to protect our property."

"The their actions may sometimes appear incomprehensible, perhaps some superior being looking down on us may find our so-called ethical actions just as puzzling."

"The case is dismissed."

And that is why Teddy now frolics happily, recuperating from the strain of the trial, while American dogdom gnaws its bones in a new-found peaceful security.

STATE SETS UP SECRET SERVICE

Oklahoma Takes New Step in Law Enforcement

200 MEN ARE ENROLLED

Body is Organized for Drive on Bootleggers

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(United Press)—Oklahoma has started something new in the line of state law enforcement with its newly organized "secret service."

The "Service" is a forerunner of an extensive state police force and is the brain child of Governor Jack Walton, elected on a platform including promises of strict law enforcement.

The "Service" has a personnel of 200 men, most of whom have records of being picturesque Oklahoma gunmen, but whose identities are kept secret.

The "Service" has been dubbed "Sooner State Secret Service" and in time will rival the neighboring Texas rangers for activity in the game of law enforcement, according to expectations of Governor Walton.

SCORES OF ARRESTS

Force of the Service has already been directed at bands of automobile thieves operating throughout the state, with scores of arrests. Results have also been obtained in preliminary drives against bootleggers and moonshiners, according to word at the capitol.

Governor Walton planned the Service along the lines similar to those of the Federal Secret Service, with the premier object of campaigning against bootleggers and moonshiners, it was said. The scope of this campaign will be broadened later to take in action against bank bandit and robber bands and others defying the laws of the state.

During the first few weeks of his administration, the Governor laid plans for establishment of a State Mounted Police Force. These plans were abandoned, however, when the legislature failed to enact his plans. The legislature allowed organization of the secret service thru an appropriation of $50,000 a year for "extraordinary protection of the state."

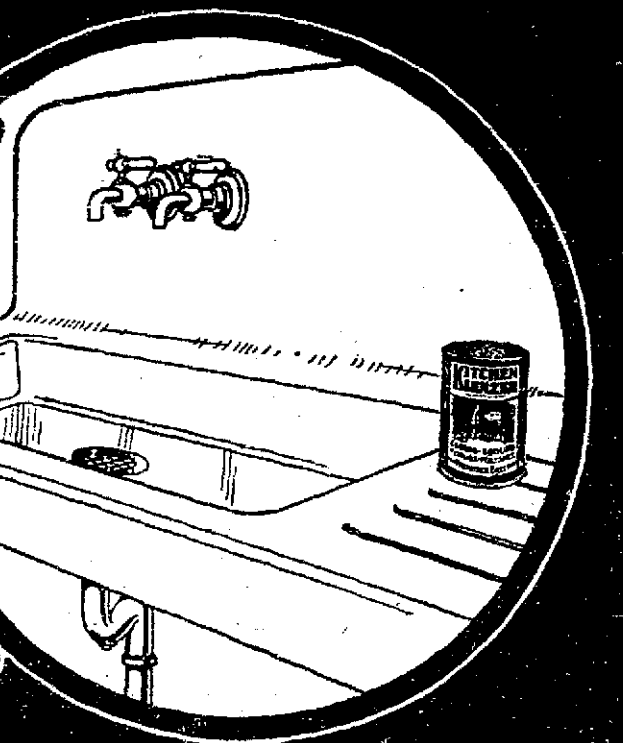

In the campaign against violators of the state and federal prohibition laws, probability of establishing an airplane squadron for the "Service" has been seriously considered. This was admitted at the capitol. This probability will see development in the coming few weeks. The airplane squadron will act as the "eye" of the service.

WOMAN IS BEHIND MURDER PROBE

Mrs. Hall Employing Sleuths on Famous Hall-Mills Case

WIDOW LIVING IN ITALY

Slaying of Clergyman and Choir Singer Mystery

NEW YORK. (Special)—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall has been disclosed unexpectedly as the silent Nemesis of the murderers in the famous Hall-Mills case.

Private detectives in her employ have been working on the mystery surrounding the killing of her husband, Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, whose bodies were found near New Brunswick, N. J., last Sept. 16.

This information has now been made public for the first time by Miss Sally Peters, friend and confidante of Mrs. Hall during the official investigation last fall, and her companion on a subsequent trip to Italy.

"To Mrs. Hall the case has never closed," Miss Peters said. "She will spend her private fortune, if necessary, to solve the mystery."

Revelations of the widow's silent and patient search for those guilty of one of the most famous and dramatic murders in modern criminology come now as a sequel to news from New Brunswick that county officials are again active in the Hall-Mills case. Suspicion, it is said, has turned to a man who had been announced as eliminated early in the investigation.

MISS PETERS IN POLITICS

Miss Peters, who recently returned from Italy, where Mrs. Hall still remains, has come again into the public eye by announcing herself a candidate for the Republican nomination for the state assembly from a Manhattan district. As the person closest to the chief living principal in the Hall-Mills case, she decided to break her long silence regarding the double murder before plunging into her political campaign.

"Mrs. Hall did not run away to Italy," said Miss Peters. "She did not go there to seek forgetfulness. There will be no forgetfulness until the real murderers are found."

"Her husband's honor is vindicated," she still believes in her husband's integrity. There will be no rest for her until she has proved that the sordid charges against him were untrue. That proof will come, she is certain when the mystery is cleared by the arrest of those actually responsible for the crime."

Miss Peters refused to say what person or persons Mrs. Hall suspects of murdering the rector and the choir singer.

"Private detectives were hired by Mrs. Hall because she wants her husband's name cleared," Miss Peters said. "She has no malice against the criminals. Her grief is too deep for that. But she knows the smirch on her husband's memory must remain until the mystery is solved."

Miss Peters also disclosed that she had received a threat of death through her connection with the Hall-Mills case. She spoke of it following a statement by James Mills, husband of the murdered choir singer, that he had received hundreds of letters of sympathy.

"We all received letters," she said. "I got one that threatened me with death if I should dare to leave New Brunswick."

WILL REMAIN IN ITALY

Mrs. Hall plans to remain in Italy until her own detectives, or county officials, make definite progress toward solving the murder mystery. Then, said Miss Peters, the rector's widow will hurry back to the United States to aid in the prosecution.

"I think," said Miss Peters, "that Mrs. Hall has been completely exonerated in the public mind. My dearest wish is that the world might know her for the splendid woman that she is."

"Her cold reserve has been against her. After the famous day when she voluntarily submitted to an interview by a roomful of reporters she told me that her greatest fear through the ordeal was that she would break down and cry. I told her that it would have been much better for her if she had."

"But she preferred to suffer in her own way. Now in Italy she is living with a trusted friend and is finding a little peace. But it will not be complete until the mystery has been cleared. She will remain abroad indefinitely, until the search that she initiated bears fruit."

Officials of both Middlesex county, in which the murder victims lived, and Somerset county, in which they were slain, agree that Mrs. Hall has been eliminated in the long dormant and now revived investigation. They both discredit the one-time sensational story of Mrs. Jane

How to throw off that tired, listless feeling

GENERAL—tutions ago, our foremothers made a "tea" every Spring from certain herbs and barks to purify the blood. Likewise, since 1826, such herbs and barks have been carefully selected, proportioned scientifically and prepared for that great blood purifier—S. S. S. To serve beneficially from one generation to another successfully is a guarantee of its effectiveness. The way we live and eat, we can't step from Winter into Spring without purifying the blood; unless we choose to suffer depression, feel tired out, and have pimples and boils. It is so easy to give nature a little help, and the best sure way is to start with S. S. S. Stronger and more useful nerves depend on blood-power. S. S. S. will give you that greater endurance, energy, strength, and a more youthful appearance.

Mr. J. M. Mar, Los Angeles, Calif., writes: "Overwork occasioned a complaint which consisted of a tired feeling and pains in the back, that finally exhausted all my strength. A friend advised me to take S. S. S. and after taking only several bottles I was entirely relieved."

The food that keeps you "right!"

Mapl-Flake is 25% Bran

Mapl-Flake is a whole wheat flake (with all the bran left in), so appetizing and full of flavor that it puts "sparkle" in your appetite. The bran of the whole wheat makes it a harmless, natural, non-habit-forming laxative.

You can eat Mapl-Flake because it's good, because you like it. You forget about "taking bran" as a healthful duty—you eat it in Mapl-Flake as a pleasure.

A well balanced food, Mapl-Flake fairly brims over with life-giving, body-building energy. It's rich in phosphorus for building brain and nerves, in lime for making sturdy bones, and in the vitally valuable iron salts for making good red blood. More than that, when you serve Mapl-Flake you have the life-giving vitamins which develop the appetite and make foods effective.

Be a "Mapl-Flaker"

Here's a breakfast that will give you the appetite of a farm hand, nourish your body for the day's work, and keep you "fit as a fiddle."

Try Mapl-Flake tomorrow morning. Forget how good it is for you—just revel in the delicious taste. You'll find it better than medicine, hearty enough for anyone, wonderful to eat.

Three tables were filled for the bridge games and at the conclusion of the playing, high score was held by Mrs. Lamont Hoffman. During a two-course luncheon, Miss Janis Louise Usher, daughter of the hostess, daintily attired as Cupid, passed small bows and arrows to the guests, which bore the initials, C. E. Colson, A. C. July 26.

Guests at this attractive party were: Misses Margaret Daley, Wava, Marlene and Freda Prosser, Georgia Rose, Lucille Wood, Lucille Curran, Dorothy and Esther Roberts, Mrs. Ambrose Bishop, Mrs. Lamont Hoffman, Mrs. Robert King and Mrs. C. E. Colson.

The bride-to-be, a graduate of Central high school, has recently completed a three-year course at Mrs. Barnhart's School of Expression in Chicago. Her fiance, whose home is in Grand Rapids, is employed by the Welch-Widmark Show-Case Co., with headquarters in Chicago.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Vogelgesang, W. Eureka-st., Thursday evening in a farewell compliment to the Vogelgesangs, who leave soon to make their new home in Indiana. Mrs. Mamie Arbaugh entertained the members of the Ideal club at the Girls' Club house, S. West-st., Thursday afternoon. An afternoon of needle work and social chat was enjoyed and at 4:30 o'clock, the hostess served a two-course luncheon assisted by Mrs. H. C. Bennett and Mrs. Louise Long. Mrs. Bennett was an only guest of the club.

Altho Thursday's meeting was the last regular gathering of the year, the annual business meeting and election of officers will take place at a meeting next Tuesday evening with Mrs. Edward Bergman, 624 Brice-av.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

ONLY one year ago I was instructed in the art of making rose heads. Will you please publish them please?

GRIND fresh rose petals from 20 to 25 times in an ordinary food chopper. Before the last two or three grindings knead a little olive oil into the paste.

To have the heads uniform in size, measure the paste for each with a rather wide gold band-ring. String on a hat pin and leave for several days to dry thoroughly. They decrease to one-third their original size.

When thoroughly dry, take the heads from the hatpin and let stand in olive oil for two days. String on dental floss, with two or three small cut steel beads between the rose heads.

If it is not convenient to make the heads immediately after grinding the petals, the paste may stand for a day or two, if kept in a cool place. When ready to use, grind again, adding a little water and more olive oil if very dry.

Dear Miss Smart:

I have been doing with a girl for a year or more. We are very fond of each other and have decided to be married. But we have not money enough on hand for a wedding. We would like to be married and keep it secret for awhile until we are on our feet. Could you help us in this? This would be a good plan.

The reason you give for keeping the marriage secret is a mistaken and superficial one.

An elaborate wedding is in no way essential and certainly is not in good taste unless the bride and her family can afford the expense. Don't let false pride lead you to keep your marriage secret until you can afford to have a display.

Dear Miss Smart:

Please tell me if the Indiana state bonus law has been changed and what. Do you think a child can eat heartily and get plenty of exercise and still be so thin that you can see her bones thru her skin?

W. T. Mc

The Indiana State Bonus law has never been passed.

I would advise seeing a physician regarding the child's health. Surely no child that has good health can get good exercise and good food and get lank on no flesh at all.

REAL BOA

A boa for the neck? Miss Peggy Dunn, of Philadelphia, Pa., has a real one, a baby boa constrictor. Black and red, it goes very well with her gray dress and red shoes.

Mrs. Lamont Hoffman has invited a group of friends to her home in Terrace Court, Friday evening, June 15, for bridge, in compliment to Miss Charlotte E. Colson, whose engagement to Hugh Cook was announced Thursday evening.

Members of the Thursday Evening Euchre club entertained their husbands at a dinner at the Barr Hotel, Thursday evening. Covers were laid for twenty-two at the attractive dinner table, a large centerpiece of pink and white flowers being used. Roses were given the guests as favors. At the conclusion of the bridge games, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Calacobi, Mrs. Frank Derck and A. E. Traser held high scores. This was the final meeting of the club until September.

Clarence Deenon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Deenon, who has completed his year's work at Ohio State university, will arrive home on Saturday for the summer months.

Mrs. Marion Hane, Fairview-av, entertained the members of the Mothers' club at her home, Wednesday afternoon. After an enjoyable afternoon of games and music, a two-course luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Vera Ashton.

Guests were Miss Deputy, Louis Peirce, Robert Shaffer and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mullen.

Mrs. Fred J. Parr, who has been residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Tohy, W. High-st., for several months, left Friday for Mobile, Ala., to join her husband.

Mrs. Cora Hood, N. Jackson-st, entertained the members of the Friendly club at her home, Thursday evening. Contests, music and bridge were enjoyed by the guests of Mrs. Hood and a luncheon served at ten o'clock. Twenty-five members of the club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Hood.

RESTORE LINCOLN LANDMARK

Illinois to Maintain Courthouse Used by Emancipator

Metamora, Ill. (Special)—One of Abraham Lincoln's old stamping grounds, where he conducted many a legal battle and recounted his characteristic yarns, is to be restored for the future. It is the courthouse in this quaint old city, once the seat of Woodford county.

Here Lincoln, Douglas, Ingersoll and other great lawyers of ante-civil war days practiced their profession in its historic courtroom. Now the Illinois State Historical Society has succeeded in persuading the state to buy the building, and I. L. Tobias, of the department of public buildings, has been put in charge of its restoration.

The building will be placed, as early as possible, in the same condition as the same exterior and interior arrangement, as existed in Lincoln's time.

But for this transfer to the state, the courthouse might have fallen into decay, say some of the older residents of the city. They remember the time when this was the center of town activity in Woodford county, and when the Metamora house across the way was the place where the great lawyers congregated and swapped yarns.

The old building was constructed in 1845 and is the last of the early form of courthouses. It lost its distinction in 1857 when the railroad selected a new route through the state and the center of Woodford county was transferred to Elmhurst. The courthouse was then used as a town hall and a meeting place for the American Legion and other war veteran organizations.

J. C. Irving, prominent resident of Metamora, whose father built the courthouse, is the man in charge of the activity for its restoration. He is the owner of many prized relics among them the bed at Lincoln always occupied in the Metamora House while he attended court here and a letter Lincoln wrote from Pekin to the county clerk in relation to a lawsuit.

It is hoped many of Irving's relics will be placed on exhibition in the courthouse. There will also be statues of Lincoln and other great lawyers who practiced here. At present the only memorial is the marker marking the spot where Lincoln and Douglas had their memorable debate in 1858.

FEDERAL MAN FINDS STILL IN HOME; OWNER SOUGHT

Federal enforcement officers took a hand in suppressing Lima liquor after a capture of a large still, full operation, was the result, according to officers' report.

Coopering with Sheriff Cross and Patrolman Keller of the police department, the squad raided a home of O. C. Sackrider, 1301 W. High.

Two gallons of moonshine liquor, 10 gallon still 10 quarts of bottled whisky, and apparatus used in making liquor were found in the home, officers declare.

The still was said by officers to have been in operation within a block of Sackrider's exclusive residence on S. High. Sackrider is believed to be the owner of the contemplated still and a car. Others in nearby cities are being sought.

SUIT FOR $51,900 DAMAGES IS OUTGROWTH OF ACCIDENT

Damages in the sum of $51,900 are sought by Alfred R. Reeves, 30, Erie, Pa., salesman, in an action filed in common pleas court Friday, making the B. & O. Railroad defendant.

Reeves, motoring south on the Dixie Highway, was hit by a south bound B. & O. train at the crossing four miles south of Lima, January 24.

He was traveling a strange road, he avers, and owing to natural obstacles near the crossing was unable to see or hear the approach of a train from the north.

The tracks and highway intersect at an oblique angle, he declares. On the day of the accident the crossing was in a rough condition and was slippery from a coating of ice and snow.

Reeves asserts his entire attention was concentrated in watching the road and driving. He was unaware that a railroad intersected the highway until on the tracks. No warning of any sort was given to apprise him of danger, the petition declares.

Reeves was hurled 100 feet, he asserts and suffered injuries that still confine him to a hospital. Among the more severe injuries is a fracture of the left leg, which will shorten the limb two inches, he avers.

STUDENTS GET REPORTS; DOORS CLOSED FRIDAY

Lima's public school youth frequented the halls of learning for the last time this year when they went to their respective buildings Friday afternoon to receive their report cards.

Over 250 high school students will be graduated Friday evening when exercises are held at Memorial Hall. Henry Turner Bailey will deliver the commencement address.

GET'S DEATH MESSAGE
Word was received Friday by Mrs. E. L. Kirk, of 1612 Lakewood, of the death of her niece, Miss Josephine Edwards, of Findlay, who died Thursday night following an operation. Miss Edwards was well known here having visited frequently at the Kirk home.

FLOWING GOLD

—BY REX BEACH—

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray arrives in Dallas and prepares to begin financially the well-known Henry Nelson, who is his enemy, Gray becomes friendly with the latter. Gray's family, who own oil wells, are in love with Barbara, daughter of Henry Nelson. But this is not the end of the story. Gray follows in the hands of an adventurous man, who represents interference and he and Gray fight until both are knocked unconscious. Gray and his associate, Mallow, bring the son of Barbara's lady friend to Dallas.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

"By Jove! She's splendid!" he chuckled. "Buddy, I—I like that woman."

It was mid-afternoon of the next day. Mrs. Fulton, after a restless night, was packing her trunks. She halted her labors for a second time to scan a brief note that had arrived a few moments before and ran as follows:

DEAR MRS. FULTON—I am not really such a bad sort as you consider me, and I'm genuinely interested in that boy of yours. Let's say quits and have a serious talk about him and—perhaps other things.

Sincerely yours,
CALVIN GRAY.

She was thus engaged when there came a knock and in answer to her voice the writer entered.

"Mrs. Fulton, I have learned that life is a mixed affair, and that most of our actions are the result of conflicting motives. Yes, and that we ourselves are products of conflicting forces, good and evil. Few of us are as good as we would like to have people believe nor as bad as we appear. I wonder if you will be so kind when I say that I like you."

"Certainly not."

"Nevertheless, I do. For one thing, you are a good fighter and a good loser. I try to be, but I fear I lack your spirit. I would not have hurt you willingly."

The woman tossed her head and turned away; when she spoke it was wearily: "I might have known I couldn't make the jump. I never did win a big race. A good loser, eh? Well, I've had enough practice at it. How is Buddy? Hurt, I suppose. His young life is blasted. I'll never trust another woman."

"He is standing it pretty well, and is greatly cheered by the fact that he can see out of his left eye practically as well as ever. He is going back to the oil fields and learn the business. I am going to put him to work. What are you going to do with Bonnie?"

"Do with him? What can I do with him?"

"He is a bright boy."

"I'm bright, too, but I have all I can do to get by."

"I'd like to help you make a man of him."

"What? You? How?"

"I'd like to put him in business and teach him that there is no profit in short-changing customers. I'd enjoy giving the boy a hand up, but—he is more than I'd care to tackle alone."

"There's Mallow to help you. He would be a refining influence." The mother's lip curled.

"How about you?"

"Me?"

"Isn't the sort of life you are living becoming a bit tiresome? Aren't you about fed up on uncertainties?" The object of these queries drew a deep breath; her eyelids flickered, but she continued to stare at the speaker. "Worry brings deeper wrinkles than old age. Wouldn't you like to tie to something solid and be able to show Bonnie that you are, at heart, the sort of woman I consider you? If I'll soon be getting old enough to wonder if you are what he thinks you are or if—"

"I suppose you learned this—hayonet practice in the army," Mrs. Fulton said, harshly.

"Anybody can make a good living in a country like this if he cares enough to try. I'll back you if you need money."

"And—what's the price?"

"My price? Oh, I'd feel well repaid if some day Bonnie acknowledged that I was a 'regular guy' and if you agreed."

"Is that all?"

"Quite all. Is there something you do want?"

"I can cook. I'm a good cook. Women like me usually have husbands who never can follow—and I have two. I can make a fool of a stove, and I—I can design children's clothes, wonderful things, new things—"

THIS YOKEL WAS A SICK MAN, THIN AND WHITE.

"Will you come to Wichita Falls and start a restaurant and make good things to eat, I'll supply the money and the customers?"

"Will it?" The speaker's face had flushed, her eyes had begun to sparkle.

"Then it's a bargain," Gray declared, gaily. "Why, you'll get rich, for it is the chance of a lifetime. I'll guarantee patronage; I'll draw up trade if I have to turn sandwich man and ring a bell. Leave the details to me."

Margie Fulton sank slowly into the nearest chair, regardless of the fact that it was piled full of hay, white, expensive things; her voice quavered, broke, as she said: "Go, Mr. Gray! I figured there must be some decent men in the world, but—I never thought I'd meet one."

CHAPTER XXIII
The Game of Wits

A new strike in one of the western counties had become public, and a brand-new oil excitement was born overnight. Trains were crowded, roads were jammed with racing automobiles; in the neighborhood of the new well caused scenes to duplicate those of other pools. For the first week or two there was a frenzy of buying and selling, a speculation in oil acreage and town lots.

The Nelsons, of course, were early on the ground, for in spite of the father's contention that they could ill afford, at the moment, to tie up more money in unproductive properties, the son had argued that they must have "protection," and his arguments had prevailed.

Now, oddly enough, this new oil discovery did not develop as had been expected—in fact, the excitement died out quickly—and when Henry Nelson undertook to dispose of his holdings he was faced by a heavy loss, for Gray was offering adjoining acreage at low prices.

Following this unhappy experience, the scandal about the Jackson well became public—the Atlantic Company having at last located the leak in its pipe line—and the whole Red River district enjoyed a great lull.

Miss Barker, of course, was deeply chagrined at her connection with the fraud; nevertheless, the banker felt his flesh turn cold at the nearness of his escape.

About this time a big gasser blew in north of the Louisiana fields, and wise oil men began to talk about Arkansas and quietly to gather in acreage. Less than a week later one of Nelson's field men brought into the bank a youth who owned some property in the latter state. This yokel was a sick man; he was thin and white; he had a racking cough, and he knew nothing about oil except from hearsay. All he knew was that he would die if he didn't get to a warmer, drier climate, but the story he told caused Henry Nelson to stare queerly at his field man. That very night the latter left town.

On the third night thereafter, in answer to a telegram, Nelson and the Arkansas farmer slipped unobtrusively out of Wichita Falls. It so happened that Brick Stoner, en route to Hot Springs for a little rest, was a passenger on the same train.

Stoner returned in due time, much rested, and he brought with him a large check to the firm's account.

"We timed it to the minute," the gasser couldn't have come in better if we'd ordered it. Nelson's dickering under cover for more acreage near what he's got, but I tipped off who he was."

"He fell easy, eh?"

Stoner grinned. "He was so pleased with himself at swindling an invalid, and so scared somebody would discover those seepages that he couldn't hardly wait to sign up. If it hadn't been for the general excitement, he might of insisted on time to do some exploring, but he's pulled a rig off another job and he's sending it right up."

"We've got some good news too," McWade asserted. "Avenger Number One is trying hard to come in."

"No?"

"I tell you Gray's got a rabbit foot. If we continue to trail along with him, I'll be losing you as a partner, Brick."

"How so?"

"Why, I'll be turning honest. It seems to pay."

"Um-m, I'd better keep all this Nelson money and leave you—"

"Oh, not at all," the junior partner said, quickly. "That isn't an oil deal, strictly speaking, for you say there ain't oil enough on the land to grease a jackknife. I look on it as a real-estate speculation."

With a laugh Stoner accepted this explanation, and then announced that he was hungry for his breakfast.

This time Mallow spoke up. "I'm badly-hungry for a new joint; Fulton's Fancy Waffle Foundry, follow me and I'll try to wedge you in, but you'll have to eat fast and pick your teeth on the sidewalk, for we need the room."

In answer to Stoner's stare, the speaker explained his interest in the welfare of Wichita Falls' newest eating place, and en route thereto he told how Margie Fulton came to be running it.

"Gray did it. He got the Parker girl to help us, and we had the place all fixed up by the time Margie got here. She's tickled pink, and it'll coin money—if it isn't pinched."

"Pinched?"

"Sure! Bonnie's the cashier, and he palms everything from dimes to dish towels. Force of habit! Better count your change till I break him of short-changing the customers."

It was a blue day for Henry Nelson when Avenger Number One came in, for it made necessary immediate drilling operations on his part. And the worst of it was the well was not big enough to establish a high value for his holdings. It was just enough of a producer to force him to begin three offsets and that for the moment, was an undertaking decidedly inconvenient.

LETTER FROM BETTY STORLEY TO HER FRIEND, ALICE HAMILTON.

Gracious goodness, Alice! Your last letter made me think you were a real grown-up young lady. Of course I know that both of us have grown up, but I hope your family is more aware of the fact than mine is—and me a real live authoress, even if that isn't a grammatical sentence.

I made a grammatical slip the other day and Vera picked me up right before a room full of people, saying, "Betty, you'll have to speak more grammatically than that if you want to be a successful writer."

Quick as thought I answered, "Oh, I don't know, I don't have to speak grammatically; I just have to write grammatically."

Sir George Fortesque told me he thought that was the smartest thing he had heard in many moons. He didn't say "many moons" because he is English you know.

That night Vera told me she thought I was very fresh and that little girls should be seen and not heard in the drawing room. Between you and me, Alice, I think Vera would like to be Lady Fortesque, but she has not got as much chance of being it as you have. I think he comes here because I am a flapper.

Isn't it strange that sisters are such cats? From what you write me about your sister Leslie, she seems to think she is still "in" in your family, and I know that I'll be nothing at all in mine until Vera is married.

By the way, if your Karl Whitney comes over here this summer are you going to tell him that I know about the pearls? Isn't it grand, Alice, to have a perfectly wonderful secret like that? It makes your life just one series of thrills.

Every morning when I wake up I wonder if the secret will be found out today for, of course, you know that some day Leslie's husband is going to find out that those pearls are real and then there is going to be a regular dynamite explosion in your family. I don't blame you for wanting to be on this side of the ocean when it starts.

From what you wrote me in your last letter, I think if you really want to marry Karl Whitney we can get him engaged to you while he is over here where your sister can't interfere. I know my sister won't, because she is so engrossed in trying to hook Lord George that she can't think of anything else.

Speaking of Lord George, what do you think he asked me the other day? He came up on the terrace where I was sitting in the hammock, seated himself in a chair and looked at me very carefully without saying a word for a long time. Then he said:

"Oh, I say, little one, are you what they call a 'flapper' in America? You are nothing like our flappers, don't you know?"

"No," I answered emphatically. "I am not a flapper, but Sister Vera is. She is the kind of a girl they call flappers over there."

He looked at me a moment and then began to laugh. "You are spoofing me," he said, "but at that you are a bright one, throwing your weight around this way." (That is English slang.)

Wouldn't it be nice, Alice, if when your Karl Whitney comes over here I could borrow Lord George for a little while from Vera? I'm not a real live authoress for nothing, you know.

So glad you are coming and really hope that no one will find out about the pearls until after you have left. An intrigue makes life so interesting.

BETTY.

FRAMED, ACCUSED MAN DECLARES

Otis Morey Hurls Accusations at His Sisters

VERBAL EXPLOSION ON STAND

Says Does Not Remember Confessing Incest

Accusations that his sisters were "framing him" to obtain his property, were made Friday by Otis Morey, 38, on trial for a statutory offense, in common pleas court. The charges have to do with his alleged illicit love for Opal Morey, 25, his sister.

Your are all a pack of liars," he shouted shaking his fist at Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott and the two elder sisters, Mrs. Frankie Eley and Mrs. Lois Hines. "They got $4,000 from my father," charged Morey, "but they want to send their own brother to the penitentiary to get his farm," he added.

The explosion came when Lippincott, in cross examining the Spencer-ly farmer, drove him into a corner in forcing him to relate a certain conversation.

FAILS TO REMEMBER

Morey could not remember making a confession, on which the state is basing its case. He told of having drunk a large amount of pickle juice the day he was arrested. He could not remember anything concerning his stay at the city jail, save that the two detectives locked the door when they entered the building, he said.

Lippincott required the witness to repeat over and over that he took Opal to the railroad station in Spencer-ly, knowing her condition, and let her start on her journey—he knew not where.

Morey was unable to tell the amount of funds the girl had with her, or who paid the bills for her care at the maternity home in Toledo.

The witness lost his temper when quizzed concerning the signing of papers in the office of a Spencer-ly notary several weeks ago. The papers transferred all of the personal property owned by Opal to her brother.

How Otis was arrested and the confession obtained from him was related from the stand by Detectives Kipker and Bowersock.

DETECTIVES DENY

They told of driving to the farm and telling Otis they had a warrant for him. They talked of other matters, they said, without letting him know what the warrant charged.

Morey was induced to come to Lima, where the real questioning began. Morey blundered into admission of the crime himself, the officers testified.

Miss Jane Taylor, a matron at Toledo asylum was also a witness. Nurses from the maternity home were also on the stand.

WET, DRY VOTE IS PLANNED

National Referendum on Volstead Act Expected

(BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Millions of dollars will be spent in two gigantic campaigns of publicity and organization to line up all the voters in the country on one side or the other of the new prohibition struggle.

The result will be a national referendum in 1924 on the question of modifying the Volstead law to permit manufacture and sale of beer and light wines.

Under the leadership of the Anti-Saloon League the dries will shortly sound a rallying call to dry supporters everywhere to contribute to a "war chest" and to revive all prohibition organizations to prevent amendment of the Volstead law and to force congress, by a show of public opinion, to appropriate more money for enforcement.

Headed by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, the wets will make a similar drive, urging those with wet sympathies to become open active advocates of a more liberal enforcement program and of amendment of the Volstead act to permit beer and wine.

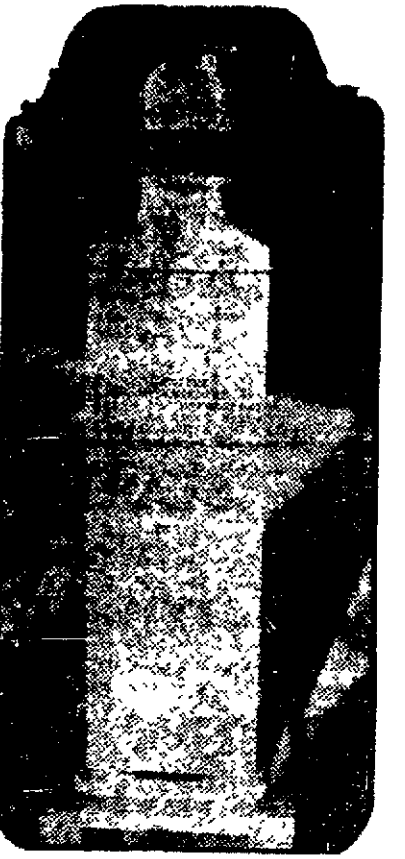

Congress will be "too busy" this winter to make any changes in the Volstead law after giving the status of beer and wine. It is extremely unlikely to amend the enforcement law at all, even to clarify the international situation created by provisions of seven maritime powers against new American regulations forbidding ships store liquor. The whole matter is to be referred back directly to the people before the parliamentarians in congress attempt any tinkering. The congress elected in 1924, may bring back the beer, the one that will convene in December 1923, will not even take a step in that direction. That is why dry leaders are not greatly disturbed by developments in New York, Wisconsin and Illinois and other states where repeal of state enforcement laws has occurred or is being considered. They declare the referendum will support a "100 per cent enforcement" of the Volstead act just as it stands.

The 1924 referendum would be the broadest test of public sentiment on prohibition this country has ever been afforded. Every candidate in 1924 from president down will be measured by the wet and dry footrule.

LOCAL MAN ENDS WORLD TRIP

D. H. Kirwan Travels Over 30-
000 Miles in 88 Days

With face and hands tanned by the sun's rays in many countries and salt air from every sea of the world, D. H. Kirwan returned to Lima Thursday after a tour of more than 30,000 miles and 88 traveling days on the water.

Kirwan was a member of the party of local tourists who left Lima January 18, including also Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hoover and Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunter, of Wapakoneta. The remainder of the party are in Canada, and will return to Lima Sunday, Kirwan said.

Seeing the world, in time becomes almost an arduous task, and Lima is a pretty good place to come back to, Kirwan said Friday.

The party of local tourists sailed from New York, Havana was the first stop and from Cuba the travelers went to San Francisco. From Honolulu to Japan, where women work at coaling ships for the munificent sum of 18 cents per day, the party journeyed on to China.

The party voyaged up the Peking river to Hong Kong on a boat armed with Chinese soldiers and machine guns. Bandits at that time were active and precautions were taken by every boat on the river to prevent capture of tourists, Kirwan said.

Hong Kong, Kirwan declared, is the dirtiest city in the world. Citizens anticipate any possible housing shortage by sleeping in the streets. More than 400,000 live their lives on boats along the river, he said.

Leaving the oriental charms of China, the party journeyed to Manila and from Manila to India where Kirwan attended native funeral services. Twice every day, Kirwan said, the dead of Indian cities are piled body on body and flames applied. Funerals for lower classes are not so elaborate. The bodies are piled together and crows from the neighboring forest assemble in droves and pick the flesh from the bones.

At 10 a. m. and at 4 p. m. every day the crows emerge from the nearby hills and trees and perform their funeral tasks.

The party touched the shores of Africa, inspected the Sphinx, the pyramids and the obelisks of Egypt. Kirwan also journeyed across the desert to Palestine. From Africa the party went to the European continent, where the remnants of ancient civilization still attract thousands of visitors. Work of unearthing the ruins of Pompeii is still in progress, Kirwan said, and the city about which volumes have been written still charms the tourist with its romantic ruins.

In France the travelers visited the battle fields and placed wreaths upon the graves of two Lima boys, killed in action. They are: William Paul Gallagher and Edward J. Veasey, buried in the national cemetery near Chateau Thierry.

One of the things impressing the visitor to France today, Kirwan said, is the absence of young men. France is a nation of old men and women. Taxi drivers in Paris are 50 years of age or more and the only young men in evidence are war cripples for the most part.

The tourists sailed on the Empress of France and were quarantined against smallpox on the way across. They suffered from ptomaine poisoning at Bombay, but otherwise little sickness marred the voyages. Return to America was made on the Empress of Scotland, the party landing at Quebec, Canada.

FINES DECLARED ILLEGALLY COLLECTED BY OHIO JUSTICE

DAYTON — Fines and costs totalling $6,318.60 on charges of violating the speed laws, were collected illegally by S. C. Bechtolt, justice of the peace at Brant, on the Dayton-Springfield pike, a few miles out of Dayton, State. Examiner J. S. Clifton held yesterday in a report filed with State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy.

Examiner Clifton charged that in none of the cases where motorists were arrested, did they waive the right to trial by jury, but were fined by the justice, regardless of this.

Bechtolt, it is alleged, has been operating a speed trap near Brant, in which 300 motorists were caught and fined. The money on which illegal collection is charged, was obtained between May 20, 1922 and May 1, 1923, the reports says.

STAGE OLDSTERS "PAINT UP" FOR THE MOVIES

(BY GERTRUDE GILHAM)

When William H. Crane's wife learned that Goldwyn was taking him to come out of retirement for their "Three Wise Men" she said to him, "Who, you? Not even a sapient fool, but a plain ordinary one to put on the paint again of your age?"

We assure Mrs. Crane will regret her amiable joke when she sees the picture, directed by King Vidor, and soon to be released. Anyway, we glad the dean of the American stage had the tenacity to defy his age and make better half just this once.

The screening of Austin Strong's popular play provided a real reason for Crane, Goldwyn, Gilman, and the other oldsters to paint up. John Simpson, director of the play, whose professional life has been used by decades. They have played the production with the same vigor and stage culture and have, in fact, become personalities. Crane, particularly, had the time of his life in the life of the play, and he was not alone. For "Three Wise Men" is a play, second to "The Merchant of Venice" in the world of drama. It is a comedy drama revolving about a trio of aged bachelors, headed together by whimsical compact through the women they all loved in youth. The play, which they have been playing for decades, is a masterpiece of the art of the stage. Jack Holt Stars In "The Tiger's Claw" at Quilna

As the attraction for the last project, he meets the latter's half of the work, the Quilna daughter whom he had loved in the past. Jack Holt's latest Paramount starring picture which appeared for the initial times at that theatre Thursday.

The story tells about Sam Sandell (Jack Holt), an explorer constructing a dam in India, who is eluded by a tiger and falls seriously ill from fever. To show his devotion, he marries the half-sister of the girl who nursed him back to health. In the meantime, a wilder Sandell is summoned to a conference with Henry Fraser (Richard Dix), the financial backer of the dam project.

"Please Get Married" Opens Week's Run Sunday

"Here Comes the Bride," the first of three comedies produced by the Hawkins-Ball Co. which are appropriate for the month of June, is playing all who see it in a happy frame of mind. The numerous laughs and screamingly funny situations keep one entertained throughout the three acts.

"Please Get Married," the Oliver Morosco comedy of hilarious honeymoon happenings, which opens a

A picture of ineffable charm, out of the trial and tribulations of a life-time the father stands out as the heroic figure. "Toiling, rejoicing, sorrowing, onward through life," sang the poet, and so has Paul Sloane, who wrote the scenario, depicted the central figure of the story.

One of the critics has aptly described the picture as "doing for father what 'Over the Hill' did for mother."

William Walling, Virginia Valli, Dave Butler and Bessie Love are the principals in the cast. Other favorites are Virginia Boardman, Tully Marshall, Gordon Griffith and George Hackathorne.

"Poor Men's Wives" Remains at Sigma Until Sunday

"Poor Men's Wives" holds its name inasmuch as this tremendous production appears at the Sigma theatre, has a wealth of costumes, settings, players and wholesome entertainment that is the very antithesis of "poverty."

Like "Rich Men's Wives," which it is an appropriate sequel, this masterpiece of screen art is a product of the H. P. Schuchman studios and is causing a much sensation as did the former which broke all records at the Sigma for attendance.

It is a story so intricate and dramatic as this one called for a fine cast to interpret it, and this picture undoubtedly has. It tells of two wives, one rich and unhappy, the other a drudge and also unhappy. Barbara La Marr and Jerry Franck are the stars in the picture. Other in the film are David Butler, Richard Tucker, Kent Pitts and Michael McLean and Little Marie McManis. Because of the popularity of "Poor Men's Wives," the Sigma management is holding the picture over until Sunday when the big double comedy bill includes "A Front Page Story" and "Affinities" will be the main feature.

TAXES DODGED BY MANY CITIZENS

Number of Persons Paying on Incomes Decreasing

579,768 LESS IN ONE YEAR

Light Turned on Thru Figures Furnished by Forbes

BY B. C. FORBES
NEW YORK. (Special)—Is America's crop of multi-millionaires vanishing?

A glance at the government's latest report on income tax payments would suggest "yes."

But, of course, nothing of the kind is happening—except that the multi-millionaires are fleeing outside the reach of the income tax gatherers.

Think of it! Fully one-half of the total income tax collected by the federal government comes from three states, namely, New York, 29 per cent, Pennsylvania, 11 3-4 per cent, Illinois, 9 1-2 per cent.

This revelation may have quite an influence on the attitude of the West and the South towards the fixing of income tax rates. This long-sighted geographical showing does not make for national, political or social harmony.

For the first time since 1915 the number of persons paying income taxes shows a decrease. Compared with 1920, the 1921 report, just issued, shows a reduction in payers of 579,768, the total being 6,682,176.

The amount of income on which the personal income tax was collected was $10,577,312,524, a decrease of no less than $4,158,416,655. The total tax collected in 1921 was $719,337,106, a drop of $355,696,539.

The average net income of all those reporting fell to $2,938, from $3,269 in the previous year.

Heavy shrinkages in the numbers reporting and the amounts paid under the different classifications of income—which range from $1,000 to $1,000,000 and over a year—are the general rule.

But the most spectacular decrease of all is that shown in the number of multi-millionaire taxpayers. In 1920, 206 taxpayers confessed to having incomes of over one million dollars a year. By 1921 the number had fallen to 33. And now the total is only 21.

This showing abundantly justifies the recent recommendation made by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that the rate levied on the largest incomes should be drastically reduced, not thru pity for the very rich, but because such a change would bring into the Federal Treasury many more millions of dollars from them. The attempt to take some 70c of every dollar received by multi-millionaires was doomed to fail, seeing that these multi-millionaires could invest their money in, and derive their income from securities on which no income tax could be levied.

Secretary Mellon estimates there are in this country $11,000,000,000 of securities wholly exempt from income tax. This is enough to meet the purses of all our Rockefellers and Fords and Vanderbilts and other multi-millionaires and millionaires.

Only two possible methods are suggested for meeting this unattractive situation:

One is that already mentioned, the cutting of surtax rates to figures which will greatly lessen or wholly remove the temptation to dodge paying income tax by investing in tax exempt securities.

The other plan, also recommended by Secretary Mellon, is to pass legislation empowering the Federal government to tax securities issued by the States.

This remedy, however, could not possibly be applied promptly, and it is doubtful if it will ever be sanctioned.

First, a constitutional amendment would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority of Congress. After that it would have to be ratified by a three-fourths majority of the States. It is hardly likely that three out of every four of our states would voluntarily consent to deprive themselves of the privilege of raising money at the lowest possible rates, as can now be done by issuing tax exempt securities. There appears to be a trend towards greater insistence upon "state's rights." Rather than any tendency to increase the powers and the privileges of the Federal Government over the individual states.

Obviously the sensible thing would be to fix next year the surtax at the level calculated to bring into the federal treasury a maximum amount of tax money from the very rich. This having been done, action looking toward the bringing about of a constitutional amendment could be set in motion if considered desirable and feasible.

Anything designed to check wholesale borrowing by states and municipalities should be heartily endorsed, for the amount of debt thus being saddled upon the American people is rushing towards alarming, disaster-breeding proportions.

These 1921 income tax figures reflect the 1920-1921 collapse of our business prosperity—a collapse incidentally, not modified by the exaction of colossal sums by federal, state and civic tax gatherers.

It is some consolation to reflect that the 1922 returns will show a substantial increase in the income of the people. The reports issued on the March 15th collections have been quite encouraging.

And, if we keep our heads, our 1923 income should be still better. (Copyright, 1923)

EMPIRE BOAK and Pitcher Etheridge couldn't agree as to whether the Charlotte, N. C., harrier was putting the ball over the plate. So they fought it out underneath the grand stand. Sport writers decided that the pitcher's reputation was vindicated.

KINKS OF LINKS On reaching the green the two players engaged in a match find that their balls are within a foot of the cup and only a few inches apart. Can the player farthest from the cup request that the ball of the other player be removed while he plays his ball?

When two balls lie within six inches of each other on the putting green, the distance to be measured from their nearest points, the ball lying nearest the hole may at the option of the player be lifted until the other ball is played, and the lifted ball shall then be placed as near as possible to the place where it lay.

When a ball is lost what is the proper procedure relative to the players who are coming up? Is there any set rule on this feature of play? It is customary when players are looking for a lost ball to allow other matches coming up to pass them. They should signal to the players following them to pass, and having given such a signal, they should not continue their play until these players have passed and are out of reach, even though the lost ball should be recovered a few seconds after signaling the players to come thru.

EVERETT TRUE—

Is Playing Third For Senators

Six months prior to the opening of the American League season, baseball experts were singing the praises of Willie Bluege.

Kamm is unquestionably a great third baseman, deserving of the many complimentary things that have been written about him.

BLUEGE, GREAT PROSPECT Goodly from the southern camps rarely if ever mentioned the name of Willie Bluege.

Bluege is now playing third base for the Washington club of the American League. What is more he is going to continue playing it. No other member of the Washington club has a chance to crowd him out.

When Washington opened the season Bill Conroy, with Minneapolis last year, was at third for the Nationals. Conroy is a mighty good looking ball player, but a serious illness of last year soon handicapped his play, and made it apparent that he would be unable to stand the strain of a long campaign.

CINCHED JOB The job of third basing was turned over to the youthful Bluege with only a few years of professional experience back of him. He would at first be able to fill in, until Joe Egan, suffering from a very bad arm, recovered the strength of his whip.

Inside of a week Bluege had settled the third base problem for the Washington club. He had the position firmly cinched. In Bluege I am convinced the Washington club has one of the most sensational youngsters that has broken into the majors in years. He needs only a year or two of experience and regular play to round off the rough spots and mold him into one of the best third sackers in the history of the American League.

BLUE TO HIT Bluege is just on his feet and can go a long way in either direction. He has a fine pair of hands and no hit is too difficult for him to try to handle. He has a wonderful arm. Occasionally his throws are a trifle inaccurate, but that is a very minor fault.

Baseball experts are positive he will field up to the major league standard, but most of them are dubious as to his hitting. I am inclined to believe that Bluege will prove a real surprise in this respect. He seems to be improving every day at the plate. He has an excellent eye, seldom hits at a ball and takes a snappy swing that is destined to get results.

Bluege strikes me as being about the best young prospect that has broken into the majors in years. Inside of two seasons I look for him to have reached the pinnacle of stardom.

BIG LEAGUERS LOSE MANY GAMES TO MINORS

NEW YORK. -- One of the remarkable features of the spring training trip of the major clubs was the unusually large number of defeats suffered at the hands of minor league teams. On the Pacific coast, the teams of that organization took all kinds of thrashings with the Chicago Cubs who trained at Catalina Islands, Calif.

The New Orleans club of the Southern Association took the Cleveland, New York, and St. Louis clubs of the American League into camp a number of times. On the showing made by the Pelicans against the major league clubs, it was evident New Orleans, the fans of that city have set their hopes for another pennant.

The Mobile club of the Southern Association as well as a number of other clubs in that circuit have shown great strength in the exhibition games with the majors.

Toronto of the International League twice beat Cleveland. Milwaukee also turned the trick. It's the same story all the way down the line.

Once upon a time when a major league team lost to a "bush" aggregation it was treated in the light of a joke. Those days are over. Of course all major league clubs try out many recruits in the exhibition games. That is one excuse that could be offered. However, the real reason for the defeats rests in the increased strength of the minors.

Then he rushed to the Jirka home and asked Mrs. Jirka if she thought Alfred was in the barn.

GIANTS BEATEN BY CUBS AS REDLEGS WIN

The temperature of the warm receptions they have been extending their eastern visitors was maintained Thursday by the western clubs of the National League.

The Cubs of Chicago made it two straight out of three from the New York Giants, 9 to 7, and sent the world's champions on to Pittsburgh. The Pirates were kept from roughing the Brooklyn Robins again by rule. St. Louis and Cincinnati also won, the former again from Philadelphia, 1 to 0 and the latter made it a clean sweep with Boston, 3 to 1. The cellarite Philadelphia was rendered less potent by the loss of Cy Williams, leading home run hitter of both leagues, who was taken ill and will be out of the game several days.

If the Cubs can hold up they will add a lot of interest to the National League race. They should prosper at the expense of Boston, which started a series there Friday after its disastrous Cincinnati attempt. The Braves, of course, may pick up heart at the acquisition of Pitcher Jess Barnes and Catcher Earl Smith who join them thru a trade with the Giants.

Just now the National League is quite interesting. The Cubs have demonstrated that New York can be beaten; five clubs, New York, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, St. Louis and Cincinnati have played better than 50-50 ball since the season started, all having won more than half their games; Chicago has lost only two less than it has won. Boston and Philadelphia are the easy marks of the circuit.

MUTT AND JEFF—MUTT TRIES TO COLLECT SOME 'WET' EVIDENCE—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

Captain George Strick sat at a restaurant table and was served by a waiter who might be said to lack self determination. Strick rejected a portion he had ordered and told the waiter to take it back to the kitchen. No action.

Finally, he asked, "Are you going to take it back?" The waiter smiled wanly and replied: "I don't know—am I?"

Bob Ewing, sheriff of Anguillero, wondered why a fellow passenger on an inbound Western Ohio Railway car had such trouble getting to his feet. "Then," says Ewing, "I saw that he had both feet planted on the skirts of his long overcoat."

Art Morris, election board clerk, who spent time in Oklahoma, tells the story of a cowboy who was so tall he slept with his feet sticking out the bunkhouse door. "One day," Morris says, "he went to sleep in the saddle while riding a small horse. His feet dropped to the ground and he woke up to find that the horse had walked out from under him and that he was eight miles from the ranch."

Miss Martha Gamble, librarian and information clerk at the Public Library, spends part of each day solving such problems as these:

"How do you word the invitation when the bride is a widow?"

"What is the proper diet for a turtle?"

"If one jar would hold all my tomatoes, can't I can the rest in a dishpan?"
